CONGRESS TO MEET ISSUE OF TAX CUT

Democrats and Insurgents Will Attempt to Force Further Slice

COOLIDGE WANTS DELAY
Administration Holds Reduction Unsafe With Conditions Unknown

BULLETIN
Washington, D. C. (AP)—Increasing tax receipts flooding into the treasury impelled Secretary Mellon Thursday to boost his original estimate of a $185,000,000 surplus for this fiscal year. He was unwilling to predict what the actual surplus might be, however, and maintained it was too early to talk of tax reduction.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1926, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—The more the returns from the September collections of income tax are studied the more complicated becomes the problem of the administration. The question of further tax reduction to be launched by the Democrats at the December session of congress. The administration has taken the position that the facts available justify no predictions as to when the tax cut can be made. The minority insists that this is simply a means of postponing the tax reduction until the next year's session. The majority insists that the facts available justify no predictions as to when the tax cut can be made. The minority insists that this is simply a means of postponing the tax reduction until the next year's session.

But the September collections do verify the statements of the experts that what has been lost through the reduction of miscellaneous and indirect taxes would be more than offset by the increase in the amounts paid on individual and business returns. This increase amounts to $65,152,000, which, with $5,338,000 and the quarter dividend receipts, make a total of $75,490,000, which is for purposes of approximation about the same as the $81,000,000 loss in miscellaneous receipts.

Most of the receipts from taxation however are on incomes earned during the year 1925. Business conditions during 1926 admittedly have been better than last year so the treasury may expect greater productivity from the tax rates than might otherwise have been the case. But while the experts may prophesy this, the definite data cannot possibly be available before the payments made on March 15, 1927, are studied and this will be about April or May of next year. Congress, on the other hand, unless called into extra session would adjourn on March 4, 1927, by law and would not have time to act again until the session of December, 1927, which would run into the spring of 1928.

REDUCTION IS UNSAFE
The administration also intends to iterate and reiterate that it is unsafe to reduce taxes on an expectation, and that nobody can foresee business conditions in 1928 and 1929 and that too low a cut might be dangerous.

To this the minority will answer that in the early part of 1928 it will be just as difficult to see into the future and determine the curve of business as it is today and that no tax bill has been passed on the assumption that business conditions would be good or bad but on the basis of the average productivity of rates. In other words, the treasury's own argument, that the lower the tax rates the higher the returns; which was first opposed by many Democrats, now will be used by them as a reason for a cut in the December session of congress this year.

CUDHAY PACKERS VOTE NEW STOCK DIVIDEND

Chicago (AP)—Common stock of the Cudahy Packing Co. was authorized by the directors Thursday to be split up on a two for one share basis and the quarter dividend rate increased from $1.75 to $2 a share, placing the stock on an $8 annual basis. The new stock will be of $50 instead of $100 par value.

CONGRESSMAN ACTS TO DISBAR BROTHER IN MARATHON COURT

Wausau (AP)—Disbarment of Allan V. Classon, prominent attorney of Oconto, is sought by three relatives, including his brother, former Congressman David G. Classon, in an action started in the Marathon circuit court Wednesday.

D. G. Classon, George T. Classon and George W. Moody are the complainants who seek to have A. V. Classon disbarred or suspended from the Wisconsin bar. The complainants charge among other things that the Oconto attorney made misrepresentations and false statements in business deals growing out of the sale of electric power property located at Weyauvega. Allan V. Classon recently won a $50,000 damage suit at Green Bay as commission in the sale of the Weyauvega property in which the complainants figured.

G. A. R. VOTES ON NEW CHIEF AT IOWA MEET

Civil War Vets Refuse to Consider Disbanding of Organization
Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Less racket attended the G. A. R. encampment Thursday as the veterans' stopped marching about town beating drums, blowing fifes and waving on fiddles long enough to give some attention to selection of a commander-in-chief and a convention city for next year.

They were tired, too, from the long parade Wednesday through the rain and up the steep hill to the state capitol where they were reviewed by their commander-in-chief, John B. Timman. Some of the delegates professed to see in the selection of a fight but the great majority regarded the matter with equanimity. If lines were drawn in making a choice between the five most frequently mentioned candidates they would be very general, it was indicated.

CHICAGO GOES BACK TO STANDARD TIME SUNDAY

Chicago (AP)—Chicago, which has been on daylight savings time during the summer, returns to central standard time at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS FOUND GUILTY

E. G. Geenen Convicted of Driving Car While Intoxicated

The twenty-sixth intoxicated driver was found guilty in municipal court late Wednesday afternoon and fined $50 and costs of $6 by Judge Theodore Berg.

Arrested in town of Center several days ago E. G. Geenen entered a plea of not guilty at preliminary arraignment and indicated his intention of fighting the charge. When taken into court on Wednesday Mr. Geenen still continued his plea of not guilty but was convicted.

KING WAS PAID $20,000, GIRL SAYS IN COURT

Merton Gave Late Commitment Amount in Two Liberty Bonds

New York (AP)—A weeping girl gave testimony Thursday in the conspiracy trial of Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, that led to the introduction of evidence to show that two Liberty loan bonds with a value of $20,000 that Richard Merton, known as "Merton," paid to John T. King, late Republican national committeeman from Connecticut, were exchanged for bonds of smaller denominations by an attorney in the alien property custodian's.

SENTENCES SELF TO BREAD, WATER

Aged Judge Finds Punishment Severe, but Fails to Modify Bootlegger Term

Hartington, Neb. (AP)—Although still healthy, Judge Wilbur F. Bryant, 75, who is serving a self-imposed admitted in discussing his practical test of the diet, that his slumbers were disturbed "with dreams of bountiful feasts. I had studied the matter of bread and water scientifically years ago," Judge Bryant said, "and this test is merely a practical test of a theory. The punishment is a severe one. It is not in certain cases as dangerous. The severe punishment lies in the sameness of the diet and the complete change from a variety menu. Bread and water opens the chamber of reflection. In regard to Fred S. Dirks, whom I sentenced to 60 days in jail, the first ten and last ten days of which must be served on bread and water when he pleaded guilty to selling liquor to high school students, I will say that his punishment will not be modified."

KONDYLIS DISSOLVES OWN PARTY IN GREECE

London (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Athens says that the premier, General George Kondylis, has dissolved his own political party and will retire from politics. His action was taken to stop complaints from political leaders that he was working in his own interests. General Kondylis overthrew the Pangalos government Aug. 22, by a coup d'etat.

Paris (AP)—The Lyons express was in collision Thursday morning just outside the Herley station of the Paris-Marseille lines. Two persons were killed and 18 injured. One man killed had an American passport.

TUNNEY MAKES TRIP TO PHILADELPHIA IN AEROPLANE FLIGHT

Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—Completing a spectacular jump to the scene of his battle with Jack Dempsey Thursday night, Gene Tunney arrived here by aeroplane Thursday afternoon. The heavyweight title challenger, in a Curtiss Oriole plane, piloted by C. S. "Casey" Jones of New York, noted civilian aviator, landed safely after a trip of approximately 100 miles from Shawnee on the Delaware, not far from Tunney's training camp at Stroudsburg.

COURT VOTES TO ADOPT U. S. RESERVATIONS

Members May Later Withdraw Approval on American Amendments

Geneva (AP)—The world court delegate conference Thursday adopted its committee's report concerning acceptance of the American reservations to memberships in the court and then adjourned. The conference voted to give the members of the court the right, if they saw fit, later to withdraw their approval of the American reservations concerning the adoption of amendments to the court statutes and concerning the question of asking advisory opinions of the court.

FINAL TOTAL FLORIDA DEAD YET UNKNOWN

Send Medicine and Serums into District to Prevent Disease Spread

LIST MAY REACH 1000
No Special Legislative Session in State for Relief Appropriation

BULLETIN
Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—Governor Martin stated upon his arrival here Thursday from the storm-swept area that he did not regard an extraordinary session of the Florida legislature as necessary to appropriate funds for relief work.

A plea for such a session was made Wednesday afternoon in a front page editorial of the Miami Daily News. Sanitation, movement of refugees out of the storm area, and efforts to locate and recover the bodies of the uncounted dead Thursday occupied the attention of workers endeavoring to rehabilitate the southeastern Florida coast section hit Saturday by a hurricane. Every effort was being made to get into the district medicines and serums needed to prevent a serious epidemic of disease and in an effort to relieve sickness. Daily and Moorehaven, have been ordered evacuated by all except workers needed to clean up or search for bodies.

STATE POLITICS IN MUDDLE AFTER PARTY MEETING

Zimmerman to Make Fall Campaign on His Own Platform

Madison—(AP)—Refusal of Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, Republican gubernatorial nominee, to subscribe to the platform adopted by the party's state convention here Tuesday created an unusual situation in Wisconsin politics.

The question resulting from Mr. Zimmerman's negative vote on the platform is whether he will be supported by the entire republican state central committee in the general election November 2.

After the primaries it is the practice of the state central committee to work for the election of their candidates. The entrance of an independent republican candidate in opposition to Mr. Zimmerman apparently would further complicate matters because it would raise the question whether some of the members of the central committee would support the independent.

The platform adopted by the convention was submitted by Assemblyman R. Bruce Johnson, Superior. It was regarded as the La Follette-Blaine-Ekern progressive platform, although Attorney General Herman L. Ekern was defeated in the race for the nomination for governor.

Turns It Down

Mr. Zimmerman refused to vote for the platform after his own platform was rejected. He said his was as progressive as any and indicated that he did not desire to "tie himself to the chariot wheel of a minority seeking to control the political destiny of Wisconsin." The other candidates, on the state ticket, including Lieutenant Governor Henry A. Huber, State Treasurer Solomon Levitt, Theodore Dammann, nominee for secretary of state, and John Reynolds, nominee for attorney general, voted for the platform. The conservatives voted against the platform, but they have a prospective independent candidate for governor in Assemblyman Charles B. Perry, who was unsuccessful in the primary.

Mr. Zimmerman indicated after the convention that he would base his candidacy in the general election upon his own platform, rather than upon the document adopted by the majority of the party's delegates. In event of his election, the Republican candidates for state offices would present the spectacle of entering office upon two sets of principles, one differing in certain respects from the other.

Two points of difference are in the taxation and tolerance planks. The majority platform opposes repeal of the personal property tax and opposition to the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Zimmerman's document favors taxation reforms that would make repeal of the personal property tax possible, and criticism of the Klan without mentioning the Anti-Saloon League.

BOLD THIEVES TAKE CAR HERE

Drive Off With Machine in Daylight from Its Parking Place

Automobile thieves who worked in broad daylight Wednesday stole an automobile belonging to Eli Peterson, Waupaca, which was parked on College ave. it was reported to police.

The information of theft has been relayed to cities as far south as Milwaukee and to all points in the Fox River valley. Police Chief George T. Prim declared.

Mr. Peterson's machine is described as a Chevrolet landau, carries a spare tire in a casing on which is printed the Laux Motor company, Waupaca, and the license is C-126 639.

The Waupaca man had parked in front of Geenen's Drygoods store, police said. The thieves must have taken the car between 10:30 and noon, it was said.

SCHAFER ASKS WHAT WETS SPENT TO HELP BLAINE

Milwaukee Congressman Demands Copy of Report to State

Madison—(AP)—Congressman John C. Schafer, Milwaukee, Thursday made public a letter to Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, asking for copies of all campaign fund reports filed by the Association against the Prohibition Amendment.

Records in the secretary of state's office disclose that a preliminary report filed by the association several weeks ago showed no expenditures in the primary campaign. The association has until next Tuesday to file its final report and Dr. J. J. Seelman, Milwaukee, state president of the organization, has notified the secretary of state that the report will be filed as soon as outstanding bills have been paid.

The association authorized an advertisement endorsing Governor John J. Blaine, republican nominee for United States senator, just before the primary.

"A considerable amount of money was expended in the recent primary campaign for full-page newspaper advertisements carrying the authorization of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, Inc.," Representative Schafer wrote.

"As a citizen interested in maintaining respect for the corrupt practices act placed upon the statute books by Progressive officers, I write to inquire whether aforementioned Association has complied with the provision of sub section 5 of section 12 09 of the Wisconsin statutes of 1925.

"Various messages of the present governor of Wisconsin to recent legislatures strongly urged the upholding and the strengthening of the corrupt practices act. In fact, the 1921, 1923, and 1925 legislatures had strengthened this act. Since the governor's messages placed much stress upon the election being over before an electorate had the facts with reference to campaign expenditures, I would appreciate an early answer to this request.

"In order that I may have copies of all reports filed by this association, I desire a certified copy of the reports filed by the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, Inc."

THE FLORIDA TRAGEDY
Delayed on account of the destruction of wires and stations, enough news of Florida's great hurricane has been pieced together to bring realization that a great tragedy has taken place, more terrible in loss of life than that of the San Francisco earthquake.

Miami with its surrounding fairyland of synthetic islands, dream palaces, Venetian archipelagos and lagoons and causeways, has changed in a day from one of the nation's greatest centers of spendthrift recreation to a place of death. Splendid resort and home developments into which daring men have tossed fortunes have been washed into tangled wreckage. The tragedy is as startling in its contrasts as it is appalling in its toll of hundreds of lives. The sadness of death becomes poignant against a backdrop of beauty, pleasure, carefree leisure and wealth.

Actually, however, it is well to remember that the burden does not fall heaviest upon the seasonal visitor who gave color to Miami as a resort. The life toll chiefly was taken from among the thousands of permanent residents, relying upon the tropical climate for safety and comfort in flimsy dwellings and upon building and other development in a new community for employment. The annual heira of wealth in Florida's direction will not reach its height for two months. That portion of the population which could least afford deprivation is stricken.

The entire nation may be counted upon to regard Miami's misfortune with the same broad practical sympathy given to suffering communities in the past. If anything, this sympathy will be a little closer and more genuine for the fact that every American city has its proportion of those who know intimately, as visitors during the past few years, the territory stricken by the gale. The broad highway and its new medium of travel have bound all of us more closely together, in catastrophe as well as in pleasure.

THE PRINCE'S THUMB
News concerning the Prince of Wales is always interesting to Americans, unless it is some wild rumor that the prince is engaged to some unknown young lady. The almost daily "engagement report" has such little foundation it passes without being noticed.

When the prince falls off his horse, however, everyone chuckles. The jokesters rush down to the office early to remark, "Well, that's a horse on him," or something equally aged and silly.

On his way to the beach for a swim the other day it was noticed something was wrong with the prince's thumb. "I sprained it playing golf," was his explanation.

And there lies the secret of his real attraction. The chances are the idea never entered his head that he should stay out of the water just because he had a sprained thumb. It's the same way with riding. When he falls off his horse he gets on again. Give him credit for nerve about the average.

DISREGARDED
Congressman John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader in the House of Representatives, thinks there will be no congressional reapportionment until after the 1930 census.

High as he is in the councils of the party now in control of the government, Tilson doubtless knows what he's talking about, for the present at least.

Without stopping to give the subject a little consideration, probably very few people will realize how unfair this is.

There are, as Congress is constituted today, 435 members of the lower house. The theory is that the population is divided by 435 and a congressman represents each quotient.

Obviously, as the country grows, there will be sectional variations, unless the whole country increases in population at the same relative rate, which is not to be expected and which it does not.

The constitution's framers accordingly provided for a reapportionment, following each decennial census, which also was provided for.

This rule was followed, with the exception of a break during the Civil War, when a census was missed, due to circumstances over which the federal government plainly had no control—until 6 years ago.

There was a reapportionment following the 1910 census and congressmen still are being elected and re-elected on that basis. There was a census in 1920 but no reapportionment ensued. Congress simply has disregarded it. Why?

Well, since 1910 population has increased in the urban much faster than it has increased in the rural districts.

In 1910 it was predominantly rural. Today it is predominantly urban.

Yet the rural population still rules, though in a minority.

One of two things must happen, with a reapportionment:

Either urban districts would get enough extra congressmen to gain control, increasing the size of the House of Representatives by nearly 60 members, mostly from the cities, or, if the house remains at its present number, the urban districts will gain representation and the rural districts will lose representation correspondingly.

The readjustment may be desirable or it may not, but the constitution calls for it, at any rate.

Congressman Tilson doesn't question that this is the case. He adds that he favors compliance. But suppose Congress tells the Founding Fathers, in this instance, to go hunt a warmer climate! What's to be done about it? Nothing. Congress can't be penalized. It simply disregards the fundamental law—and that's that.

Rural representation, in control, declines to surrender it. Congressman Tilson seems to think it will do so following the census of 1930. It's hard to see why it will be any readier to do so then, than following the census of 1920. It's violating the constitution now. Why should it feel differently 4 years hence, or 14 years, or 24 years, or ever?

"HE WAS THE CHAMPION"

A famous comedian used to be confronted in a gladiator scene by a muscular gentleman who was introduced as "the champion." Thereupon the comic would swell his chest, flex his biceps and orate contemptuously: "He is the champion? You mean he was the champion." Two new "was" champions have been duly crowned with that doubtful honor within the past week.

They are William T. Tilden and Robert T. Jones, ex-kings of American tennis and golf respectively. The Tilden defeat was a holocaust, for it marked the passing of our home title into French hands. The disaster was so complete that Mr. Tilden was not even in the finals, and two Frenchmen had to furnish competition for one another to determine which was the better American tennis champion. Bobby Jones did better than that, surviving to the last round and putting up a plucky fight to the final putt.

Americans are so often successful in athletics that an occasional foreign defeat is probably good for them. It punctuates notions about natural capacity, racial superiority and the like. Better training methods, more money and time to spend on coaching and practice, and more competitors account for two-thirds of our success—allowing the other third, which is perhaps too much, for the same quality of initiative and originality, of refusal to be hide-bound by older methods, that were made the subject of comment concerning our armies in the late war, and are today noted in our industry.

Creating superman or superwoman notions is as bad for Americans as it was for Germans. "He was the champion"—provided it is used seldom enough so that it does not destroy legitimate confidence—is a wholesome obsequy. It keeps the taste of victory from going stale.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

REFERENCES DULY VERIFIED

Long ago I learned that it is difficult if not impossible to get away with any demonstrable errors of logic, fact or allusion in this column. A doctor, being accustomed to burying his mistakes quietly, finds it a little embarrassing here sometimes and envies the privacy enjoyed by the gold fish.

A Duluth reader writes:

"In your article entitled 'Keep Your Hair On You credit Shakespeare for the lines running 'Vice is a monster of such horrid mien,' etc. Was not Pope the author of these lines?"

A Long Island reader confesses that he really enjoys Doctor Brady's something or other (I can't make out the name he gives my stuff) but his quoting ought to be checked up. Remember, my Jamaica friend says, what Byron wrote in English Bards and Scotch Reviewers: "With just enough learning to misquote."

The quotation which these two readers refer to was made in a letter from another reader, who wrote this:

"Jim is right—and then some. So is Doctor Angell at Yale and so was Shakespeare when he said, 'Vice is a monster of such horrid mien as to be hated needs but to be seen, but when familiar with his face we first endure, then pity, then embrace.'"

At the time I printed this letter about Jim's views I remember I took the precaution of looking up in Bartlett's Familiar Quotations, saw that the correspondent had it all wrong, and let it go as he quoted it. I don't know how I failed to notice that it was credited to Shakespeare. Pope wrote it thus: "Vice is a monster of so frightful mien, as to be hated needs but to be seen; yet seen too oft, familiar with her face, we first endure, then pity, then embrace."

Quite a while ago I said something here, about the Scriptural injunction to "Know Thyself." A dozen readers promptly challenged me to cite the verse and chapter, and a few of them kindly informed me that this quotation was from Pope. These were the first batch of corrections. A little later came the second batch from learned readers who desired to tell me that this quotation came originally from erudite persons to whose attention the matter had been brought, in nearly every instance, by some idle third person, and they begged to state that the saying was Plato's. Then trickling along week after week came a succession of batches from antiquarians, attitudinarians, archeologists and such folk crediting the remark to Pythagoras, Socrates, Thales et al. I have been searching Scripture ever since and I still stick to my error—some day I'm going to find the verse and chapter. I have three different versions and I shall be very disappointed if the verse and chapter isn't in at least one of them.

The literary critics see into sniff at Pope's stuff; they argue that he didn't know what he was writing in the essay on man, he just collected a bunch of snappy couplets and strung 'em together and put an imposing title on the job. Nevertheless, if I had to serve a sentence of 30 days at hard poetry I believe I'd choose Pope.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, Sept. 26, 1901

Officers of the Junior class of Lawrence university were elected at the first meeting of the year the previous afternoon. They were: President, A. Hansen; vice president, Mabel Rogers; secretary, Grace Atkinson; treasurer, L. A. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Roblee were surprised the previous evening by a company of friends.

A daughter was born the previous day to Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Goodland at their home on Clark-st.

C. P. Palmer left that morning for Antigo where he was to visit friends and relatives for a few weeks.

The home of J. Croil, 962 W. College-ave, was entered at between 2 and 4 o'clock the previous afternoon. The thieves secured entrance through the back door and made away with $12.

William Michelstetter left for Oshkosh that morning to make preliminary arrangements with other members of the party who were to leave the following Wednesday on an investigation trip to Mexico in the interests of the Mexican Land Development Co.

Mrs. Victor F. Marshall was visiting relatives in Chicago.

Miss Hattie Lummis returned home that evening after a visit at the Dells of Wisconsin.

Bert O'Keefe and Richard Sykes left that day for a few days through the country.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, Sept. 21, 1916

At the meeting of the Outagamie Republican committee at the city hall the previous afternoon, Charles Hagen was elected chairman for two years as successor to A. A. Krugmeier, resigned. Other officers elected were secretary, George F. Kull and treasurer, A. G. Koch.

Oscar Boldt, 21 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Boldt, 1125 Eighth-st., had just received a patent on an improved bowling pin which he invented.

Marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Wolf to Russel Huse and Clara M. Eickhoff both of Black Creek; Peter G. Esler and Mrs. Catherine Senso, both of Kaukauna.

Mrs. R. L. Herman, 1601 College-ave, was surprised by 12 friends the previous night the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

The Young Ladies Sodality of St. Mary church were making preparations for a Halloween party to be held the latter part of October. Miss Catherine Conway was chairman of the committee in charge.

Stewart Smith left the previous day of Ashville, N. C., where he was to enter a private school.

George Schmitz was manager of the membership campaign which was being conducted by the St. Aloysius society of St. Joseph church. Captains of teams were Lewis Kollich, Oscar Fose, Edward Koehne, Oscar Wettengel, Nike Klein, Leon Wolf, Gus Keller.

If it weren't for engine trouble some parlors never would be used.

Nights are long enough now for robbers to make two trips.

LESS BUILDING LAST MONTH THAN IN AUGUST, 1925

Less Than Half as Much New Construction Authorized as Last Year

Building activity in Appleton last month was far below that of August, 1925, the National Monthly Building Survey prepared by S. W. Straus and Co. shows. Estimated costs of building projects for which permits were issued in August, 1926, totaled only $74,920 as compared with $135,550 for the corresponding month last year. The difference is $110,630. The estimated costs for July, 1926, were $150,400.

Building operations throughout the state last month were in excess of the figures for August of last year, however, the report indicates. The estimated cost of all projects authorized in August, 1926, was $9,905,261 against $6,196,748 in August, 1925. The state figures for last July were $8,571,749.

Milwaukee, of course, shows the greatest building activity, the figures for August, 1926, August, 1925, and July, 1926, being $3,621,140, $5,065,743, and $4,649,255 respectively.

The estimated cost of building operations started in other cities last month is as follows: Deloit, $132,965; Eau Claire, $77,000; Fond du Lac, $66,972; Green Bay, $58,979; Kenosha, $492,313; Madison, $515,557; Manitowish, $199,031; Oshkosh, $428,035; Racine, $487,084; Sheboygan, $310,782; Superior, $106,384; Waukesha, $142,665; West Allis, $359,507.

SLIGHT GAIN IN U. S.
August building reports received by the company from 454 cities and towns in the country show a gain of 3 per cent over from August, 1925, the report states.

The August figures bring the loss for the first eight months of the year to approximately 6 per cent for the entire country. While there was an August-August loss of 20 per cent in New York city, the 25 leading cities show a decline of only 5 per cent and a gain over July this year of about 7 per cent.

These figures would seem to indicate that building activity is greater in centers of population than in the smaller places, according to the report.

Among the 47 states reporting in August, 24 showed gains and 23 states reported losses from August, 1925.

The August total of the 454 cities and towns reporting was $271,173,205 compared with $407,156,159 last August and $358,632,220 in July this year.

WILL CALL MEETING OF PRINTING COMMITTEE

County Clerk John E. Hantschel will call a meeting of the county board committee on printing for the first week in October, it was announced Friday. Mr. Hantschel's position on the county board of canvassers prohibits the calling of the committee for the immediate future, it was pointed out. A comparatively large number of printing bills have accumulated since the last meeting and these will be brought up for action at that time, it was said.

DIRECTORS OF SOCIAL WORK MEET IN MILWAUKEE

A meeting of the directors of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work will be held Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 5, at the city club, Milwaukee, in connection with the social conference of this organization. Hugh G. Corbett, secretary Appleton Chamber of Commerce and a district vice president of the conference, has received a notice of the meeting.

Getting Skinnier Every Day

Hollows in Cheeks and Neck Growing Deeper Every Week
Something Must Be Done and Done Right Now—Quick

Tens of thousands of thin, rundown men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on the bones of skinnier folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are as easy to take as candy and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask Schilintz Bros. or any druggist.

But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and bear in mind that for thin, sickly kids they are wonderful—a very sickly child—age 9—gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

OUTLINE PROGRAM OF SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

A program of extra-curricular activities for the junior and senior high schools was outlined at a meeting of high school principals Tuesday morning with ten J. Rohan, superintendent of schools. This social program will be presented to the board of education for its approval and advice at a special meeting to be called soon for the purpose of discussing special educational problems.

Probably all of the schools will be closed on Oct. 8, when the Northeastern Teachers association will hold its annual convention in Oshkosh. A vote has been taken among teachers to see how many would like to attend. It is a majority of the faculty in any school wish to go the school will be closed, it was said.

THREE NEW TEACHERS IN 2 LOCAL SCHOOLS

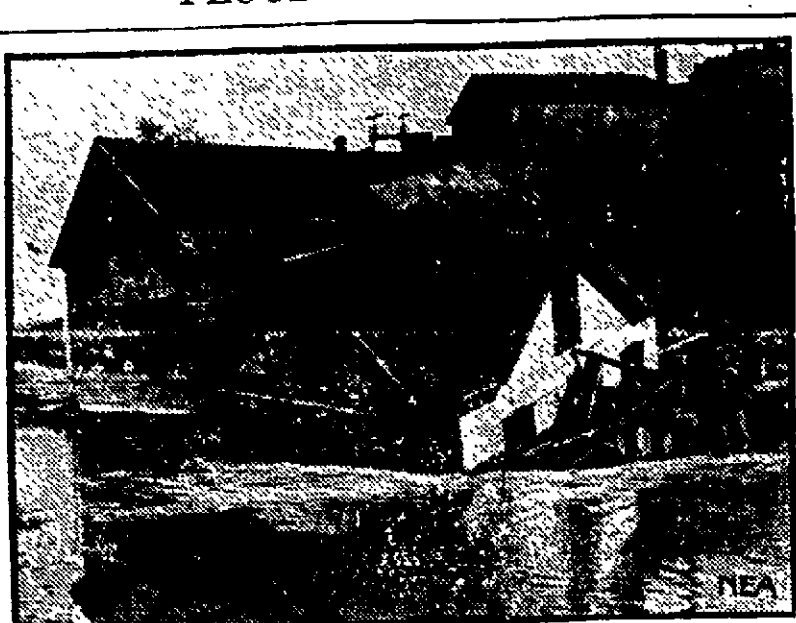

Only three new teachers are employed this year at the McKinley junior high and grade schools, and the Richmond schools in a faculty of 16, according to a statement made by F. B. Younger, principal. Two of these three teachers were transferred from other schools in the city, making only one who is entirely new to the Appleton system.

Miss Josephine Sexton, Berlin, teaches the fifth grade of the McKinley grade school. She was graduated from Oshkosh normal school and taught for one year at Kewaunee, at the Jefferson schools last year is now teaching in the fourth grade at the McKinley school.

Miss Beatrice Wilson of Milwaukee was an Appleton visitor Tuesday.

FLOOD IN ASHLAND

Florida wasn't the only state that suffered from disturbances of nature. Wisconsin had a serious flood that caused a good deal of property damage. This picture shows how it treated houses in the city of Ashland.

and Miss Elsie Sandberg, who taught at the Jefferson schools last year is now teaching in the fourth grade at the McKinley school.

Miss Viola Pelzer, who taught in the Washington school last year, is now at the head of the kindergarten and primary work at the Richmond school.

WISCONSIN 2ND IN CABBAGE CROP

More Than 6,000 Acres Planted to Cabbage in State This Year

Wisconsin, according to a forecast made by the United States Department of Agriculture, will rank as second producing state in the Union when the "kraut crop" or Danish cabbage acreage for 1926 is harvested. County Agent Robert Amundson said Saturday.

A considerable amount of this type of cabbage is grown in Outagamie county but figures giving actual local acreage and production expectations have not been compiled yet, Mr. Amundson said.

New York leads the country with an expected production of 143,000 tons for 1926 as against 125,000 in 1925.

This year New York planted 16,590 acres as against 13,520 last year.

In Wisconsin, records show, 6,170 acres were set to cabbage in 1926. In 1925, 6,050 acres were devoted to the crop.

A Wisconsin acre is expected to produce ten tons as against nine tons in New York.

The total cabbage to be produced in the United States this year will reach a gross of 481,700 tons, the department believes. Minnesota is third producing state with an expectation of 16,600 tons.

Production in the entire United States for 1925 was 461,400 tons.

MAY NOT ISSUE SECURITIES FOR HEATING PLANTS

Application for Permission is Denied Steam Heat and Power Company

Madison—(AP)—The application of the Central Steam Heat and Power company for authority to issue securities for the construction of heating plants at Port Washington and Plymouth, has been denied by the state railroad commission.

In announcing its denial of the application, the commission criticized the company's plans as follows: "The proposed expenditures for organization and promotion for engineering, and for contractor's profit are excessive and the commission finds as to these the amount of securities to be issued exceeds the amount reasonably necessary for the purpose for which such securities are proposed to be issued."

"The estimated earnings could not be maintained under the provisions of the public utility law even if they could be reached by a similar business not subject to the law."

The estimate that steam will be sold to the cities for electrical generation at a profit to applicant of 2 cents for each kilowatt hour of total electrical output is unreasonable in view of present costs to the cities and ignores the obligations which the cities have under contracts.

"The commission is particularly impressed with the erroneous nature of the data which have been submitted, in view of the proposal to pay to the promoters 5 per cent for organization expenses in addition to pay the engineering fee proposed."

The company proposed to issue $150,000 par value of ten year bonds bearing 7 per cent and also $70,000 of preferred stock and $50,000 par value of common stock.

Representatives of the company indicated they would take the matter to the courts for settlement, on the ground that the commission lacks authority to deny their application.

COMMITTEES TO SOLVE PROBLEMS OF GRADE STUDY

Groups Will Meet Twice Each Month, According to President Plans

Committees to work out educational problems pertaining to third and fourth grade work were appointed at a meeting of teachers from those grades with Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, Tuesday afternoon. These committees will meet twice each month, it was said, once at the time of the regular teachers' meeting and once during the month.

The program of the Northeastern Teachers' association which will convene Oct. 8 in Oshkosh were distributed and the schedule discussed. A plan of self measurement adopted by the administration this year was explained to the teachers. Pamphlets called Better Teaching and accompanying cards illustrating the ways of measuring ability and development were given to each person and were discussed by the superintendent.

The wettest place in the world generally is conceded to be Cherra Poenje in Assam, where rainfall for the year has exceeded 155 inches.

COMPLETE GRADING IN 4TH, 6TH WARDS

Grading on several streets in the Fourth and Sixth wards was completed this week, but final completion of the work is being delayed because of a shortage of cinders, according to Robert Hackworthy, street commissioner. Streets which have been graded but not finished are two blocks on E. South Weimar-st and E. Candee-st, E. Brewster-st to Parkway-blvd and E. Circle-st. The continuation of E. Drew-st past Roosevelt school has been completed and is ready for use. The other streets will be finished with gravel if enough cinders cannot be obtained. A culvert also was built in the road on E. Weimar-st and another on E. Candee-st.

The Mr. Steffens living in Kaukauna has been put to considerable embarrassment on account of the similarity of names, he declared.

TEAM SHOWS UP BETTER AS 1ST BATTLE NEARS

Orange Squad Improving in Preparations for Game With Oshkosh

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna High school football squad has settled down to hard work to defeat Oshkosh Saturday. If the Electric City outfit gets past the Blue and White it will have easier sailing the following week when it meets Shawano here. According to late reports Shawano has only 25 men out for football. Shawano stacks up against Appleton at the College City Saturday.

Many nice runs and plunges were made by the first squad in the work-out Wednesday evening. The boys are not over confident of winning, however, and they realize that they will have to fight for everything they get Saturday. Although the Blue and White will send out only three veterans, Coaches Schneider and Christopherson have been able to drill a great amount of football into their proteges in the past two weeks.

The game will be called at 2 o'clock. This is a bit earlier than usual but the local high school authorities found it necessary to start the game at this hour.

The bleachers are in such a bad condition at Kaukauna Ball park, where the game will be played, that they will not be moved to the football field. This means that everyone will have to stand during the game.

ROTARY HEARS FINANCING PLAN

Fargo Describes Reorganization of Moloch Foundry and Machine Co.

Kaukauna—B. W. Fargo addressed the Rotary club on the reorganization of the Moloch Foundry and Machine company this city Wednesday. He told of plans for the future and explained the new stock to be placed on the market. The company is capitalized at $375,000, consisting of $175,000 in preferred stock and 2,000 shares of common stock to be issued to the present stock holders for their holdings in the old company. The proceeds from the sale of the 7 per cent preferred stock will be used to retire as much as possible of the present indebtedness of the company and will provide additional working capital needed by the company.

J. J. Martens spoke on The Business Man Twenty-five Years Ago and the Business Man Now.

Plans were started at the meeting for a reception to be given the faculty of the Kaukauna High school in the near future.

DON'T MARK VALUE ON MAILING WRAPPER

Kaukauna—Postmaster A. R. Mills has received a notice from the Postmaster General's office in Washington, D. C., that no registered parcels are to be accepted by the local office that has the valuation of the contents marked on the outside of the package. All such marks will have to be erased or taken off in some way before the package is accepted. In the past it has been the custom for people here to mark the value of the packages on the outside of it. Although there always has been a government regulation against not much attention was paid to it, but from now on no package having such marks will be accepted. Mr. Mills says the reason for this regulation is that people on the outside, particularly those working for some large city gang, are taking advantage of the various shipments of mail. Sometimes a postal clerk is a member of a gang and he can easily inform his partner of the value of registered mail going out of the city.

KAUKAUNA FANS WILL HEAR FIGHT REPORTS

Kaukauna—Many townspeople have made plans to go to Appleton Thursday evening to hear the round by round of the Dempsey-Tunney fight which is to be given out in front of the Appleton Post-Crescent office starting at 7:45. Other people have made arrangements to hear the report of the fight by radio and many of them will go down to the fire station and "listen in" on the radio there.

ENGAGE DE PERE MAN TO DIRECT NEW MOOSE BAND

Musical Organization Expects to Play Concerts in Next 3 Weeks

Kaukauna—Prof. Heyman of the Larson Conservatory of Music at Green Bay has been engaged to direct the Kaukauna Moose band. The band has been growing rapidly until now 22 members have joined it and all but one are Kaukauna men. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening in the auditorium of Outagamie Rural Normal school. Officials of the band expect to play concerts within the next three weeks. It is possible that the band will make its first appearance on our fair day. Arrangements are being made for a number of indoor concerts to be presented in the high school auditorium in the near future. At present the band is made up of three trombones, four cornets, three clarinets, three saxophones, three altos, two basses, two harpmones and two drums.

Social Items

Kaukauna—Mr. and Mrs. John Miller entertained at dinner party Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leach of San Francisco. Miss Edna Leach formerly was Miss Frances Heindel of this city.

The Electric City chapter, Order of DeMolay will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening in the Music hall on Third-st. Routine business will be transacted.

St. Anne's court of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the north side Forester hall. A social hour followed the business meeting.

DREDGE STILL TAKING STONES FROM RIVER BED

Kaukauna—The dredge "Porinaco" is still at work clearing out the channel where the old Wisconsin-ave draw bridge recently stood. Many large stones are being taken out of the river where it is expected that they will be loaded on to a barge and taken to some part of the river that needs filling. Many of the larger stones are blasted out of the channel. Several charges of dynamite are set off each day. With the channel cleared out on the west side it will not be necessary for boats to keep to the east side of the river while passing the mills. It also will be possible for two tug boats and their barges to pass each other here.

HALT RURAL MAIL SERVICE ON TWO ROUTES

Kaukauna—Mail service on rural routes No. 1 and 2 has been temporarily discontinued, according to A. R. Mills, postmaster, because of the terrible condition of the roads. Rain has made them impassable to car and horse. Mr. Mills says that the rural service on these two north side routes will be started again just as soon as the roads are in a passable condition.

COMMITTEE TO SOLICIT FUNDS FOR FESTIVAL

Ortleib Heads Workers Who Will Secure Money for Harvest Festival

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—At a business meeting held at the city hall Tuesday evening plans were discussed for a harvest festival to be sponsored by business heads here Oct. 11 to 16. A committee of four men, headed by Norman Ortleib as chairman, was appointed to solicit funds for financing the affair. Those on the committee are Jack Hickey and George Ross for the north side and Raymond Pahl and J. P. Rosenreiter for the south side. The results of the first morning's drive were excellent.

H. B. Ghristy was appointed to act as chairman on the entertainment committee. With him will work E. Louis Reuter, R. H. Kellner, N. R. Demming.

The men who are planning the festival are not planning the affair to promote any extraordinary sales, but rather to further the feeling of good fellowship and that has brought the citizens and the farming community together throughout the summer fairs. The city is to be especially lighted and decorated throughout the festival. Musical events, sports and contests with prizes, athletic features and exhibits are to provide entertainment throughout the entire period. The festival will be preceded by a booster trip about the outlying districts in order that the whole countryside may feel welcome in the city at that time.

COLLEGE MEN ARE HARD TO TEACH, SAYS MILL HEAD

Director of Educational Welfare Work, of Kimberly-Clark Co. Talks to Kiwanians

"A man in our organization is considered educated when he can successfully adjust himself to his environment," said Arthur McArthur, director of educational welfare work for the Kimberly Clark paper company, in an address to the Kiwanis club at the weekly noon luncheon at Conway hotel Wednesday noon.

Mr. McArthur explained that the rapidly changing demand of the public made necessary readjustments of industry and that to meet these changes the entire production program of large manufacturing plants had to be changed. Included in these changes he said, was the change in the education of the workmen.

"It would not be possible for us to change our crew every time a change was made in our machines, just because the old men did not know about the changes, but it remains for us to educate our men to the changes and that is the purpose of the new type of education," Mr. McArthur explained.

"The hardest men to change and the ones we have the most trouble with, are the university graduates who think they have been educated and whom we know still have a lot to learn," declared Mr. McArthur. "Only a small percentage of the knowledge of paper making is contained in books. Most of it is gained from the minds and muscles of the workers and it is to these men that the university men must go for further information."

He told of classes in various phases of the paper making work and of the enthusiasm that workmen greeted these classes. He told of his work of the past two years of gathering a paper technical library. "In spite of the fact that paper making is one of the oldest industries in the United States there has been no effort to establish a technical library," said Mr. McArthur.

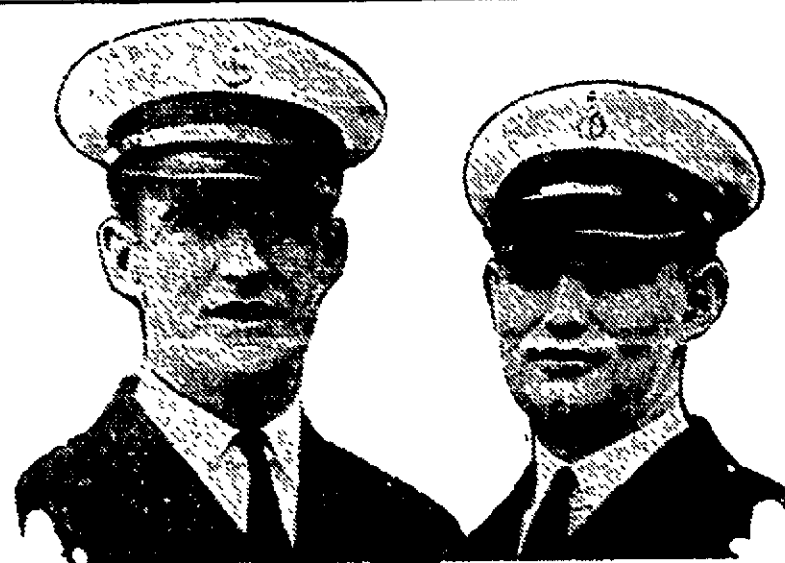

He said that he had already, in two years, gathered over 700 bound volumes dealing with paper making alone and had a card index of over 29,000 volumes on paper making. To show the success of this library, he said that over 15 per cent of all the volumes were in circulation at all times.

"We are never through learning," Mr. McArthur declared. "The old idea of an apprentice who has completed his term of service or a graduate of a university being completely equipped with knowledge in any line of endeavor is past. They must always keep studying to keep up with the rapidly changing demands of the public and the improvements being made to meet these demands."

WILL OFFER NEW LITERARY COURSE

Extension Division to Present Study on Literary Aspects of Bible

A lecture course on the literary aspects of the Bible will be offered here this winter by the University of Wisconsin Extension division under the direction of Prof. John Walker Powell. It was announced by E. M. Gorrow, district representative.

The course will consist of 12 lectures and will cover the same work as offered by the English department at the University of Wisconsin in this subject. University credit will be given those completing the course, according to Mr. Gorrow.

The lectures will consist of four groups. The first will cover ancient traditions, the second heroes of Israel, the next Prophets of Israel and the last Poetry and Philosophy of the Bible.

"It is the purpose of this course to enable the student to find a point of approach to the Bible, whereby he can enjoy its beauties and appreciate the significance and power of its outlook on life entirely apart from the theological dogmas which have been derived from it," said Mr. Gorrow. "The point of view will be entirely literary appreciation. It will familiarize the student with the great masterpieces of Hebrew literature, and at the same time furnish the necessary background in the understanding of the history and social development of the Hebrew race."

INVITE MAYOR TO SAFETY MEETING

Safety Congress at Detroit Expected to Attract More Than 5,000

The mayor and other city representatives are invited by the National Safety Council to attend the fifteenth annual Safety Congress at Detroit from Oct. 25 to 29, inclusive, according to an announcement received Monday by Mayor Albert C. Rule. Eighty-six sessions covering all phases of accident prevention and related subjects are scheduled, and speakers of national prominence are included on the program, it is announced.

All meetings will be held at the Book-Cadillac and Statler and Tuller hotels. More than 5,000 persons are expected to attend.

Those who may profit by attendance are directors of public safety, chiefs of police, city plan authorities, public works commissioners and city engineers and representatives of automobile clubs and other civic organizations, according to W. H. Cameron, managing editor.

Prominent speakers and the subjects of their addresses are: Samuel M. Vauclain, president Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, Pa., American Industry and National Safety Movement; Dr. John H. Finley, of the New York Times, New York City, Educating the Nation for Safety; Frederick J. Haynes, chairman of the board, Dodge Brothers, Inc., Detroit, Mich., Safety a Necessity of the Motor Age.

Such matters as public safety, and education, drivers license laws, traffic regulation and control, will be studied. An exhibit of traffic control and other public as well as industrial safety equipment will be presented.

Miss Eva May Landsborough of Daggett, Mich., who is attending Lawrence college visited at the home of Adolph Kilka at Black Creek over the weekend.

Miss Rose Kilka who is employed at Neenah spent the weekend at her home at Black Creek.

Never a Marcel Wave

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is ever-curling, with never a Marcel wave. And it always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress made exclusively for me. It was perfected for me by great experts when I had my long hair bobbed. Now all toilet counters supply it under the name Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75c. I cannot conceive of a girl or woman going without it when she knows. No one who sees my hair will do so. Nothing else I have ever found makes hair so lustrous, so wavy, so fluffy, so abundant. My guarantee is enclosed with every bottle, so it costs you nothing if it doesn't please. Go try it at my expense.

Thousands and thousands of people are learning every week that one 35-cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. "I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieved me besides the piles seem to be gone." A. B. Ruger, 1127 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis. Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, burns, bruises, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it. adv.

CATLIN WINS LOVING CUP AT CONVENTION

A silver loving cup, 22 inches high, has been received by F. P. Catlin, Appleton representative of the E. L. Carson agency, of the Wisconsin branch of the Equitable Life Assurance company of the United States. The cup was awarded at the annual state convention in July, to the agency having sold the highest number of policies during a two months period.

Each city representative of the Carson group is to have possession of the cup for a short period. It is to be displayed in the window of the Fitz and Treiber jewelry store. The agency must win the cup twice in succession to become permanent owners.

SCHWARTZ ADMITS DEFEAT, WILL BE CANDIDATE

MORE BALLOTS TO BE PROBED BY COUNTERS

Questional Validity of Absent Voter Ballots at Little Chute

When the smoke of battle had cleared away Thursday morning Otto H. Zuehlke had apparently won the nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket by the majority of 27 votes announced on Wednesday.

Earl G. Schwartz conceded the nomination to his opponent and issued a signed statement in which he declares himself a candidate for election as an independent.

Ballots from the village of Little Chute were reopened Thursday morning when an argument arose as to the validity of 13 absent voter ballots which were cast.

First assembly district ballots instead of second.

Herman J. Kamps appeared before the board of canvassers Thursday morning and declared that the mistake was his fault as he had taken the ballots out to the sanatorium for voting. It was reported.

Attorneys for each candidate met with board for argument were contested votes but, up to noon the details in several instances had not been settled.

QUESTION 19 VOTES

The question as to validity of 19 votes alleged to have been brought in to the office of County Clerk John E. Hantschel late on primary day was being investigated by the board.

Attorney Hugo Keller raised the question before the board on three counts.

First, Mr. Keller declared, no proper application for the ballots was filed with the county clerk; secondly, several of the votes were taken on election day and thirdly the ballots were not called to the attention of the county clerk until the day after the primaries, he contended.

What action the board of canvassers will take on the several questions pending is largely a matter of searching the statutes for local precedent on which to base the findings of the board, it was indicated Thursday.

Mr. Schwartz, it was pointed out, could, if he chose, seek further determinations through circuit court or could take steps which might lead to the calling of special election.

COSTS TOO MUCH

However, Mr. Schwartz stated, the expense of another election would be great, probably several thousands of dollars to the taxpayers, while running as an independent candidate will serve practically the same ends. Therefore the possibility of a special election appears to have been eliminated.

Threshing out legal points connected with the conduct of the primary will merely determine more certainly the exact majority accorded the nominee but will have no further bearing on the issue, in the opinion of persons interested.

In his signed statement Mr. Schwartz said:

"The recent proceedings just completed disclosed innumerable mistakes and violations of the election laws. I can do one of two things—take the matter to circuit court and ask for a special election or announce my candidacy on the Independent ticket. Should I take it into circuit court and a special election is ordered it will be a very great expense to the taxpayers of the county."

"I have determined to save the county this expense and am declaring my candidacy on the independent ticket. I believe that when as many violations have occurred as the last election disclosed, only one body can satisfactorily determine the result for any of the candidates and that is the voter himself."

"Thankful to all my friends for the splendid assistance they have given me, I confidently enter the campaign on the Independent ticket."

(Signed) Earl G. Schwartz.

Attorney A. H. Krueger has represented Mr. Zuehlke during the recount and subsequent conferences with the board of canvassers.

That the effect of the recount will be reflected in every succeeding election in the county is the consensus of political opinion.

It is believed that whenever a close race is encountered in the future that a recount will be demanded by the apparently losing candidate.

Whether Carl J. Beecher will seek the office of clerk of circuit and municipal courts as an independent was still unsettled Thursday. Mr. Beecher said he has reached no definite conclusion in the matter.

No indications are seen that any other office will be contested over the certified nominations.

It was considered probable that the board's deliberations would be concluded Thursday afternoon and the findings certified to the county clerk for certification to the secretary of state.

BUILDING OWNER SAYS RENTER OWES HIM $500

The case of John Denzel against George Walsh and Rose Beach opened before a jury in the higher branch of municipal court Thursday morning. Judge Theodore Berg presided. It is alleged by the plaintiff that the co-defendants rented a building for him and that a certain amount of rent due has not been paid. The sum involved is approximately $500, it was stated. The defendants conducted a clothing store in the building.

TWO HOTEL MEN ATTEND MEETING IN OSHKOSH

John Conway and C. H. Emder of the Conway hotel corporation, were to go to Oshkosh Thursday night to attend the September meeting of the northern section of the Wisconsin Hotel association. George Athearn, owner of the Athearn hotel, was to be host at the meeting.

A dinner will be followed by a business meeting. The session was planned for several weeks ago but was postponed until late in the month. The last meeting was held at the Beaumont hotel in Green Bay.

BOYS WHO FELL FROM TREES ARE GETTING BETTER

Spaulding and Wilson Boys Recovering from Injuries

The condition of Melford Spaulding, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Spaulding, Eighth-st., Kaukauna, who was seriously injured when he fell from a tree near his home last Sunday afternoon, was greatly improved Thursday, according to the attending physician. The boy suffered four broken ribs and injuries to his kidney and liver.

He had been playing with several companions and climbed to the top of a large tree when he lost his hold and fell between 35 and 40 feet to the ground, striking on his back. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where he will be confined for about three weeks.

The condition of Robert Wilson, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilson, 548 N. State-st., who suffered a fractured skull when he fell from a tree near the W. Lawrence-st bridge, Tuesday afternoon, was greatly improved Thursday noon, according to attending physician. Although the lad is not yet out of danger he rested easily Wednesday night, and was quite rational Thursday. He will be confined to the hospital several weeks and will not be out of danger for two days.

200 REGISTER IN NIGHT CLASSES

Nearly Half of Registrants Will Take Instruction in Sewing

More than 200 applications were received Wednesday for evening school classes which will open at Appleton Vocational school Oct. 4. A large number of applications had been received by mail prior to this week. It is expected that nearly as many registrations will be received Thursday evening.

Forty-three different classes in commercial work, home making, trade and industry, Americanization and miscellaneous subjects are being offered.

The class in sewing seemed to be the most popular among applicants Wednesday evening as 95 of the 200 signed for that class. Commercial courses drew about 50 registrations, trades and industry 25; cabinet making and drafting, 25. A record enrollment is expected this year. Classes are limited to a certain number and applicants are advised to register at once.

TWO WOMEN PRAISE SAME MEDICINE

Both Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"After the birth of my little daughter I was very badly run-down. I could not think of going to a hospital, but grew steadily worse, being compelled to stay in bed two or three days each week. A friend of my sister's told of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her, and my sister bought me two bottles of it. I had not taken all of one bottle when I was up and able to do some work. I am truly a booster for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. MAYME LYNN, 1119 Island Ave. Ext., McKees Rocks, Pa.

Mrs. Hope L. Smith, a farmer's wife of Route 3, Floyd, Va., says she was ill for ten years with a good deal of pain in her side and so weak she could hardly work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped her so much she is telling her friends about it.

TRAVEL AT OWN RISK OVER SIDE ROADS IN COUNTY

Mud Almost Bottomless in Many Places, Rural Carriers Say

Many side roads in Outagamie county are in an almost impassable condition as a result of the rains the past two weeks, according to rural mail carriers. Mail delivery has been suspended on two Kaukauna rural routes, but there is no probability that delivery will be suspended on Appleton routes.

One of the carriers reported that a motorist was stuck in the mud at a crossroads in the town of Grand Chute, near the Badger school house, about 2 o'clock Thursday morning and he had great difficulty in finding a former to pull him from the mire. Finally he was released with the aid of a heavy team of draft horses.

About a mile west of this spot the farmers have posted signs warning motorists of the condition of the roads and warning them to travel at their own risk. The mire is almost bottomless in places, it is said.

The rains Thursday will increase the difficulty of traveling over dirt roads because the ground has become saturated and the water now stands in puddles.

The potato crop in this section of the county is nearly ruined. Potatoes near New London, on high sandy land, are safe, although this crop too will be touched by rot unless the rain stops at once.

109 BOYS SIGNED UP IN "CLEANUP" DRIVE

Workers in the "cleanup" membership drive of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A., had secured 109 members by Wednesday evening, according to a report of John W. Pugh, boys' secretary. The goal of the drive is 400 boys. The cleanup lasts until Saturday evening. The best producers will form an outfit in the mens' round up which starts Monday.

Carl Ek, the only boy to get into the Spizzeringklub club since the drive started, advanced to the second class by securing 12 memberships. He will receive a blue star and a silver membership button. To join the club and receive a red star and bronze button a boy must get five memberships. For 10 he receives the blue star and silver award and for 15 or more the gold star and gold award.

GET MORE THAN SHARE OF RAIN IN SEPTEMBER

More than 18 per cent of the average yearly rainfall in Appleton soaked into the ground during the first 23 days of September, according to the Schlafer hardware Co. rain gauge.

The city has an average fall of about 31 inches each year. The first 23 days of September have accounted for 5.97 inches, or almost a fifth, of the year's average.

All of the rainfall took place in eight days. The heaviest fall was in the early part of the month, when more than two inches fell on two days. On Sept. 4, the rainfall was 1.35 inches, and on Sept. 11, it was 1.93 inches.

.68 inches fell while Thursday from midnight to almost noon, .47 inches was measured.

Rains of the last week have lowered the mercury considerably. For Friday the prediction is more cool weather and probably snow in northern Wisconsin. The rainfall for each rainy day of September follows:

Sept. 4, 1.35; Sept. 5, .75; Sept. 8, .65; Sept. 11, 1.93; Sept. 15, 5.15; Sept. 19, .30; Sept. 22, .68; Sept. 23, .49.

Fall was ushered in at 2.27 Thursday afternoon when the sun crossed the equator on its way south. For the first day of autumn, Appleton had rain and cloudy weather.

According to insurance tables there are 93 persons in the United States between the ages of 100 and 107.

SCHOOL BOARDS AND MENTORS AT FALL INSTITUTE

Spend Day at Wilson School Discussing Rural School Problems

Several hundred rural school teachers and members of district school boards of the county started to arrive in Appleton early Thursday morning for the one-day annual convention of district boards. The meeting was held at the Wilson Junior High School. It was expected that 600 men and women would attend.

Much of the discussion was to center on the importance that school board members hold in their districts as an influence toward the spread of the gospel of higher education.

County Superintendent A. G. Meating, Supervisors Arthur L. Collar and Nellie McDermott were to take prominent parts in the day's activities. All rural schools were ordered closed for the day and attendance of teachers was virtually compulsory.

Work at the high school was to be largely devoted to demonstration classes for the benefit of the visitors and physical culture courses were to be stressed, it was announced.

Several prominent speakers from normal schools and the state department of education were to be present.

EXTRA PERIOD ADDED TO DAY IN HIGH SCHOOL

Give Students Opportunity to Take Part in Extra-curricular Activities

Menasha—The extra curricular activity period was added to the week at Menasha high school. The period has been placed between the first and second periods in the afternoon. Regular scheduled extra curricular activities such as forensics, debating, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, declamation and extemporaneous reading, music, class meetings, clubs, etc., will now use this period instead of having all of these things crowded in after school hours. This gives pupils who have work after school or who are out for football, a chance to take part in activities and attend their regular class work. Every Friday a general assembly period is held.

Two important principles are observed in this extra period, the participation is open to all on a basis of absolute democracy and the social organization is in control of the faculty in charge of various types of activity.

The aims are to secure general participation of the pupils in the forms of social life suited to their interests and capacities; to develop social ideals and habits of conduct in conformity with the highest standards; to discover and develop capacities for leadership; to develop in all habits of responsibility either as leaders or as members of a group.

BOWLERS TO HEAR FIGHT REPORTS AS THEY BOWL

Menasha—The City Bowling league will open its season Thursday evening at Menasha alleys. The 12 teams will bowl in two shifts, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 9 o'clock. Returns of the Dempsey-Tunney fight will be received by radio at the alleys.

Mothers!

Here is a rare opportunity to give your children musical training—

FREE Piano Lessons

Not necessary to own a piano

EVERY child is now given the opportunity to obtain musical training. Because of its great power to make home life happier, music should be in EVERY home. And yet how impossible this has been IN THE PAST. How many mothers have said, "I'd like my children to play the piano, but I don't want to buy an expensive instrument and pay for a lot of lessons only to find that my youngsters are not talented and then to have the piano stand idle."

Music for Every Child

That is a problem centuries old. Many musical educators have tried to solve it. Search has been made tirelessly for a plan that would make musical training possible and practical for every child.

W. Otto Miessner, who has written and taught music to children for over twenty years, has devised for us a plan which helps us to provide music for every child in our city.

Mr. Miessner's books are used by millions of school children. He is Past-President of the National Association of Music Supervisors.

The Miessner Melody Way to Play the Piano

Because we are genuinely interested that every child shall know the happiness that music brings, we have made arrangements to offer your child a free course of piano lessons, based on this remarkable plan of Mr. Miessner. OUR FREE PIANO CLASSES MAY DISCOVER UNSUSPECTED TALENT IN YOUR CHILD.

These Lessons Are Given Under The Personal Supervision of

Dr. Earl L. Baker of Lawrence Conservatory of Music
And Also Supervisor of Music in Appleton's Public Schools

Children who took Melody Way piano lessons last winter and spring also may enroll Saturday, Sept. 25th, at the Lincoln school from 1:00 to 6:00 o'clock and continue their second year work, using the same material as last year. The enrollment fee and ten lessons will be $1.75, payable on enrollment.

VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells
© 1926 by G.P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Mysterious lights flash from the Heath bungalow one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is again the scene of a murder. MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to MYRA's fortune, and beautiful BUNNY MOORE, to whom suspicion points because of her queer actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, yet when her body was found she was heavily rouged. A rare old bottle from her collection of glassware used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath, saying Inman is the murderer. Cunningham goes to Anderson's house and there, while waiting for his host, is confronted by Perry Heath, who then slips away in the darkness. Anderson arrives soon after and upbraids Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

TODD HUNTER BUCK, who is in love with Bunny, is witness to a nocturnal meeting between the girl and Heath. He tries to get Bunny to explain and when she refuses he calls in his friend, STEVE TRUITT, a famous detective. Bunny tells Truitt she had gone downstairs the night of the murder and seen Myra Heath, not yet cold in death, and Inman peeping from behind a curtain.

Truitt questions Inman and then, inspecting the Heath home, discovers something peculiar about a window. He then rejoins Buck and the latter's aunt MRS. PRENTISS.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLIV

"I found practically nothing of importance," Truitt said then, seeing Tod's blank look of disappointment, he added, "except Mr. Inman himself. He wouldn't admit he had seen you that night, Miss Bunny, until I told him that you had told me of it yourself. Then he loosened up a little, but he still feared a trap. However, he did admit that he went downstairs almost immediately after you came up, and said he went down to see what scared you so."

"Hm," said Mrs. Prentiss, "A little fishy. But, see here, Mr. Truitt, that check up the lights. You know the place was dark as a pocket at one o'clock. Then, Bunny comes down at half past one, snaps on a bright light, and in about fifteen minutes turns it out and goes upstairs. Then, long about two, Mr. Inman comes down. Big lights again, and soon he snaps it off and goes upstairs. Then, no more lights all night."

"Except the two small sparks—" "Yes—those the murderer put there."

"The murderer being?" "Inman," exclaimed Tod. "You must have seen, Steve, how queer he was. how, you know—furtive, and that sort of thing. Sly, uncommunicative, until he concluded to say something, then his words came out in a perfect sluice."

"Not much of a psychologist, are you, Tod?" and Truitt smiled at him. "Oh, get out. I know what I know. I know the thing rests between Bunny and Inman. I know—you know, Bunny didn't do it, therefore, and wherefore, it was Inman."

"Going to take me over to the club tonight, Tod?"

And at Toddy agreed, the whole subject was dropped by common consent, and one of Mrs. Prentiss' justly time might be short, and he must learn all he could quickly. "Why, I'm not sure I ought to voice a suspicion, and yet, if it's to help save the name and fame of a fair lady, I don't hesitate. I am quite willing to put it on record that such evidence as has been rehearsed in my hearing, leads me to think that the criminal was Mr. Inman. I may be wrong, I can only say he seems to me the most likely suspect, as far as I can see."

"You don't think, then," Truitt went on, "it could have been the injured husband? You don't think it was Perry Heath?"

"How did he make a getaway afterward? I understand the house was locked up like a bank."

Anderson seemed willing to talk, at least, until his guests arrived, so Truitt kept him at it.

"Yes, I hear it was. But why would Mr. Inman kill the woman he loved?"

"Do you remember a line of a famous poem, Mr. Truitt? It runs: 'For each man kills the thing he loves.'"

Not entirely true, of course, but a man might do that from jealousy, or unrequited love. And, too, Mr. Inman is the heir. Oh, I don't know, of course, but he seems to me a far more likely suspect than Heath. I've heard the Heaths were married for several years, and though as a bachelor such things are outside of my line, I don't think the average man is jealous enough to murder his wife after they have lived together as long as that."

"That's so," Truitt agreed, and then Sam Anderson's guests began to arrive and the callers left.

From Tod, from Bunny, from Mrs. Prentiss, and even calling in one or two of the servants, it seemed Steve Truitt would never cease his endless firing of queries.

On all sorts of subjects, seemingly with all sorts of objects, but all more or less connected with the Heaths or with other of the Harbor people.

At last, he went off by himself and smoked a cigar in silence and solitude.

He returned, smiling and debonair, and agreeable, that he seemed no more a prosaic detective, but a gay and jolly chum of Tod's.

But after Mrs. Prentiss and Bunny had gone to bed, Truitt turned to Tod with a serious face. "Old man," he said, "that woman was killed either by her husband or her cousin."

"Right, oh, oracle! I'm glad you see it that way."

"Heath, you know, is still in the 'Was last night.'"

"Is still. And tonight, my laddie, he will visit the house next door."

"Important, if true."

"Yes, that's just it. Maybe he won't. But I think—I strongly believe he will."

"Do you happen to know what he will come for?"

"I do. He will come to get a book out of the—is there a library?"

"No, books are in the studio."

"All right, then. He'll come to get a book out of the studio. Shall we conceal ourselves behind the arras, and nab him when he arrives?"

"I was awake most of last night—"

"Oh, puddinghead! Stay at home, then. I'll go alone, or, better yet, I'll get your aunt to go with me. I must have a witness."

"Of course I'll go. If I fall asleep, you can punch me when he comes."

Admitting to himself, but not to Tod, that it might be a wild goose chase, Truitt led the way and followed by his friend, went silently across the lawns to the Heath house.

"Sit there," he whispered, pointing to a lawn settee, "and don't move till I tell you."

Tod did so, and ten minutes later, Truitt came to him and jogged his elbow. "All set," he whispered.

To Tod's amazement, one of the French windows in the studio was open.

"How do you do that?" he exclaimed, but Steve only said, "Hush!" and pushed him inside.

LITTLE CHUTE CITIZEN TELLS HOW DRECO ENDED RHEUMATISM

Paper Mill employee, says he had been troubled constantly for nine years and could get no relief.

Peter H. Jansen

Never a day passes now but what some person tells the Dreco Expert at Schlitz Bros. Drug Store of the wonderful good Dreco has done him. Persons suffering from stomach disorders, indigestion, gastritis, deranged kidneys, sluggish liver, blood impurities, rheumatism, catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach, shattered nerves, poor appetite, and the many other symptoms brought on by the vital organs being weakened, come forward stating that Dreco has put new life and energy into their rundown systems.

Read the statement given by Mr. Peter H. Jansen, a millwright employed at the Kimberly Clark Paper Mills, who lives on Mann St., Little Chute, a suburb of Appleton. He says:

"For the past nine years I have suffered so with rheumatism, my muscles and joints ached me all the time and would swell up to twice their normal size. The pains in my back felt like a knife stabbing me and at times I couldn't take more than two steps without having to bend over and rub my legs in an effort to relieve the terrible pains. I was also very constipated and often took four cathartics a day to move my bowels. I suffered from headaches, dizzy spells, spots before my eyes and a bad taste in my mouth and foul breath.

"Nothing I took helped me until I started to take Dreco upon the advice of Mrs. Helf, a friend of the family's. This wonderful remedy, however quickly ended every trace of the rheumatic pains, reduced the swelling and seemed to make a new man of me. My bowels are now regular, I sleep well, have a good appetite and don't know what it is to suffer with headaches, dizzy spells, foul breath or any of my troubles anymore."

Mr. W. V. Martin, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. downtown drug store is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

BUYING UNHAPPINESS

After telling me that she had invited me with the intention of having me witness her marriage, Joan Meredith was silent so long that I felt that I must say something.

"Well, when is the marriage going to be? Hadn't we better be going?"

"There won't be any wedding," she answered.

"Changed your mind, did you? Between matinee and night, as it were."

"No," she almost whispered. "It was didn't change my mind. It was changed for me, and it has broken my heart."

"Let me go back, Judy, and tell you my story from the beginning. You will find from it that riches do not make happiness and that you can buy anything except what you want most."

"My father died two months before my brother and I were born. My mother married again when we were three years old. So you see I never knew any other father than the man my mother married."

"Mr. Robinson has been kind to me in a negligible sort of a way, but both my brother and myself have grown up in the care of servants. Not one of them seemed to care enough for either of us to stay very long with us. Consequently we grew up without any restraint. We grew up without any love. And certainly without any feeling of dependence upon or respect for anyone but ourselves."

"Judy, Bud and I are very rich. I think before I was six years old I knew that I had more money to spend than all the other children put together that I played with. Early it was impressed upon both my brother and myself by the servants and all those about us—even Dad—that money could buy anything."

"Today, Judy, I have found out that it can't buy you, unhappiness. Greater unhappiness than one who has it not could think were possible. Do you know dear, I wish I could go home with you tonight without one cent. Go home with you feeling that tomorrow I must get up and earn my daily bread before I could eat it."

"I am sure you don't wish that, Joan," I said. "Working for one's daily bread is not easy."

"Yes, I know. But never doing anything except to try to amuse yourself bores one to death. And when you have as much money as I have you think all your friends are hypocritical, and whenever anyone is nice to you you feel like calling them sycophants."

"One day when I was more bored than usual I strayed into Lincoln Park and there I met a girl. She was pretty, well dressed, and soft spoken, and I became rather interested in her conversation."

"The girl was very slangy when I talked to me in the park, Judy. In fact I could not always understand her. For instance, when I told her that I wished I didn't know where I was going to get the money to eat that night, she said: 'Come off. Come off. You're telling the cockeyed world something that you can't prove.'"

"I didn't know what she meant by 'cock-eyed' world, but I valiantly told her I was telling the truth, and she answered: 'So's your old man.'"

"Finally, she said: 'I must leave you, for I'm on at The Circle from half past six until ten tonight, and I've got to go and feed my stomach first. I don't dare to trust these hard-shelled old guys that I have to dance with. They may gyp me out of my supper.'"

"Where is The Circle?" I asked.

"Good Lord, girlie, don'tcha know where The Circle is?"

"I don't even know what it is," I answered.

"Say, girlie, your education has been sadly neglected. Come on with me and I'll show you the place where they have the best jazz and the best Charleston dancers in town."

"I had been trying to learn the Charleston, Judy, and I was rather taken with this until I realized that I would have to have a partner."

"I don't know anyone to dance with."

"You don't have to know anyone. There are always plenty of gigolos about."

"I must have looked my mystification for she said: 'Gosh, you don't know much, do ya. A "gigolo" is a young man who dances with women who come to The Circle with no men to dance with them.'"

"They are like I am, dearie. That's their business, and the boss pays them fifty cents an hour. But you needn't think the women who hire them get away with that. For I'm sure those clever boys pick up a lot of money from their partners just as I do with the guys I dance with."

"Almost unconsciously I drew back a little, and yet, I must confess the idea had a great fascination for me. I wondered if it were true that under any circumstance, that I, Joan Meredith, would dance with any man who had to be paid for it."

"I laughed. It truly was a laughable idea. Could such a thing be possible? Were there such places?"

"Would I, Joan Meredith, upon whose slightest nod any man in my set would come running to dance with me have to pay some unknown man to consent to be the partner of not only the richest girl in Chicago but one who was acclaimed the best dancer in her set?"

"Come on," I said. "I would like to see those men and that place."

"I hailed a taxi that was passing when we left the park, and I saw the girl's eyes open as I took out a big roll of yellow-backed bills to pay for some flowers at the street corner."

"I had just been to the bank and had drawn a thousand dollars."

"Don't show all that money when you get to The Circle," she said.

"I peeled off two twenty dollar bills from the roll. 'Where will I put the others?' I asked."

"She looked me over carefully. 'Well, you can't put them in your stocking,' she remarked, 'for your skirt is quite as short as mine and you are too thin to put them in the front of your waist. It would spoil your boyish figure.'"

"I was about to put the bills back in my bag, when she said: 'Don't do that. I'll tell you a secret. When I have a little money that I want to hold out I put it inside the lining of my hat.'"

"Quickly I tore off my hat and made a little hole in the lining and slipped in the bills. The girl produced a safety pin from somewhere and I pinned the jagged tear together and we started for the dance hall."

"When we got in I was rather disinclined to stay, as the people looked very common. It seemed to be filled with fat old women being hauled around by room by pale-faced young men with tired eyes and cruel mouths, and fat old men holding pretty girls tight up to their pouchy stomachs. It made me rather sick."

"The girl had left me and I stood hesitating to walk across the crowded floor to the door when a fine looking woman came up to me and said: 'Would you like a partner, Miss?'"

"Before I could refuse, the girl that I had met in the park produced from somewhere a splendid looking chap and mumbled a kind of introduction."

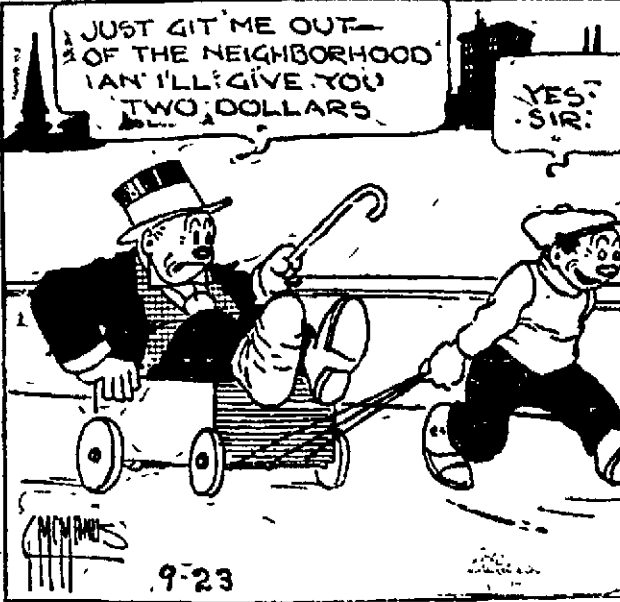

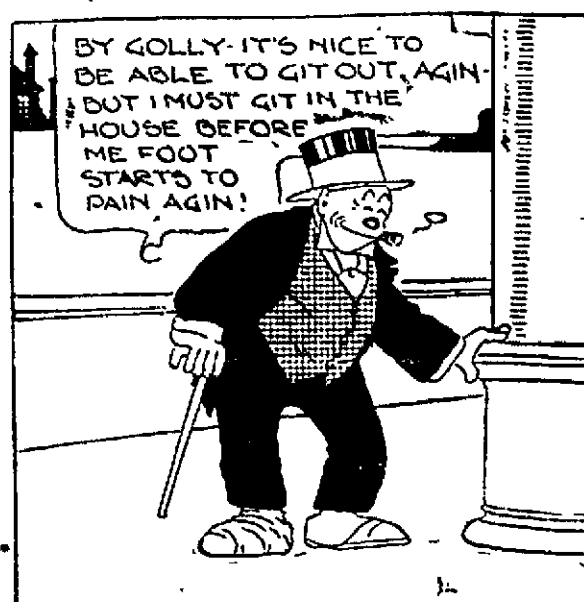

"He is dark—for it was Barry—Barry Cornwall is his name. He is graceful himself and yet when he holds you in his arms you know that he has nerves of steel covered with muscles that ripple and twist like fine soft coils of silk. His red lips, perhaps a trifle too red for a man, open over dazzling teeth and his lean face is lighted with large brown eyes that can be tender and almost cruel in the same breath. His black hair is combed back from his forehead, and I have never seen one of his shining locks awry."

"He is withal a man different from any of the society pets or rah rah college boys that I have known."

RAIN SLOWS UP LANDSCAPE WORK AT PIERCE PARK

Construction Crew Clears Grounds Preparatory to Building Roads

Although handicapped by rains ever since they started work of improving Pierce park about a week ago, the crew of men employed there by the Chicago Landscape Co., under the supervision of William Griffith, has made noticeable progress. Much of the underbrush has been gathered up, most of the trees which it will be necessary to remove have been cut down, and a large part of the grading preliminary to laying the road bed has been completed.

It is difficult to estimate how near completion the work will be when winter arrives, but if the weather is favorable until about the end of November the roads, which will total almost a mile in length, will be ready for traffic, according to Mr. Griffith. Construction of the roads is perhaps the largest undertaking in the improvement program which will be carried out there, and the remainder of the work, including planting of shrubbery, etc., will consequently be finished in short order next spring, he indicated.

The main entrance will be at the corner of Prospect and Pierce-aves and will be marked by a stone gate now under construction. The plans show. Practically the entire park will be circled by drives leading toward the center of the area. The drives on the east side of the ravine will be 24 feet in width while those on the west side will be 18 feet. They will be constructed of gravel and finely crushed stone and may be oiled, should the park board see fit.

From the main entrance the drive will lead toward the center of the park in a generally southwesterly direction for approximately 700 feet, turn southeast, skirting through the woods, for about 300 feet, then south toward the railroad tracks and finally west and north back through a point near the center of the park.

From about the middle of the park another drive will lead off in a southwesterly direction toward the ravine, go down the ravine and then turn north again, leaving the park on Mason-st., a few hundred feet south of Pierce-ave. A third drive curving from this exit toward the northern extremity of the area and finally connecting with the first drive about 600 feet from the main entrance at Pierce and Prospect-aves, also will be built. A shorter road will connect this driveway with Prospect-ave, at the end of Mueller-st.

Two ball diamonds will be located near the center of the park, while tennis courts will be constructed on the north side near Prospect-ave, and a few hundred feet west of Pierce-ave.

Two lagoons, one with a higher water level than the other, will be built in the ravine, and comfort stations and parking places will be provided.

SAL AMMONIAC WILL ELIMINATE KETTLE DEPOSIT

A large spoonful of sal ammoniac in a kettle filled with water and brought to a boil will remove the furry deposit on the inside of a kettle, says Frederick J. Haskin, director of the Post-Crescent Information Bureau at Washington, D. C., in answer to a question by a reader last week.

Empty the kettle and let it stand over the fire until very hot, and the deposit will peel off. Afterwards fill with water, containing soda, boil and rinse thoroughly, says Mr. Haskin. To prevent such a condition an oyster shell placed in bottom of kettle will collect the lime, which is usually deposited on the sides of the kettle.

In answer to a query of a Kaukauna reader Mr. Haskin says that the tarry coating found in the chimney is probably a formation of creosote from burning green wood. The only way to eliminate this is to burn thoroughly, dry, seasoned wood.

Readers desiring answers to questions may write to Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Washington, D. C.

MANITOWOC G. O. P. BACKS UP PROGRESSIVES

The Republican party of Manitowoc-co at a special meeting Tuesday evening voted to indorse the entire LaFollette-Progressive platform and ticket, according to word received in Appleton, Wednesday, by Samuel Sigman, secretary of the Outagamie-co Farmer Labor league. The resolution was adopted according to Mr. Sigman, to show that the Progressives of Manitowoc-co were backing any action that the LaFollette party might make at the platform convention at Madison, Tuesday.

CATLIN SHIFTS MEN TO STRENGTHEN BLUE LINE

HIPKE, JESSUP AT ENDS WITH OTT AT TACKLE

New Combination Looks Good: 17 Husky Frosh Report to Coach Christoph

Three chances have been made in the Lawrence college line this week by Coach Mark Catlin in an effort to find the strongest possible combination to oppose the classy Marquette University team here on Oct. 2. The new combination looks to be the best the Blue mentor has tried this year and it probably will be the starting choice against the Golden Avalanche, with possibly one exception.

Hipke, 1925 center is working at one end, and Jessup, star tackle of the 1925 frosh, is at the other. Both are husky six-footers who hit their man hard on defense and are hard to take out of the play. On offense their speed is increasing since they started work on the new jobs and both make use of their height and reach in fine style in running passes. Both are steady tacklers. Reserve ends are Beyer, 1925 regular, Grove, 1926 captain, and Hillman of the 1923 frosh. Hilton, another 1925 frosh star, has not yet donned a suit.

The shift sends Ott, a guard to tackle. With Capt. Counsell, he forms a tackle combination as good as any in the conference. Wednesday's practice saw Steensland and Artz, frosh line men last year, at guards. Weinbaum also will be in shape for a guard job soon. At center Johnson, a Racine high product, is receiving the call with Hipke ready to fill in if necessary. Johnson is a husky boy with plenty of fight and a good pass, but is handicapped with a bad knee injured last year.

Two backfield combinations were tried Wednesday and both looked good. In one Briesse called signals with Humphrey and Nason at the half and Bartell at full. In the other Briesse replaced Humphrey and Bloomer called signals. Heideeman was out for practice for the first time this year and was given a short workout.

Passing, elementary work and signal drill were on the card Wednesday. On Thursday and Friday the squad will scrimmage with the seconds and the frosh.

Seventeen freshmen turned out for the first practice Wednesday under the eye of Coach "Nig" Christoph. The announcement of drill was made late and the frosh mentor expects at least 25 out by Thursday afternoon. All of the candidates are husky boys, though there seems to be a dearth of line material. Four six-foot fullbacks are included in the lot and any one of these should make a good guard or tackle. Four Appleton boys and one from Kaukauna were in the ranks. Jack Farwell, Electric City athlete ace, was ready to go. The Appleton boys were Carl Voecks, Robert Blesman; Paul Gelbke and Edward Blessman.

CARDS GAIN HALF GAME ON CINCY

Wallop Dodgers, 15-7. While Reds Are Resting; Tribe Gains on Yanks

Hopes of second place teams in the major leagues were dashed yesterday in the wake of a spurt that placed Cleveland within two games of the erratic Yankees, who lead the American League.

Taking courage from the last ditch stand of Tris Speaker, Cincinnati returns to the struggle after a day of leisure that saw St. Louis swamp Brooklyn 15 to 7, and boost its lead in the National League to 2 1/2 games. The Yanks Thursday needed to win only two more games to insure a tie for the pennant even though Cleveland should win all four of its remaining games.

The standings: L. To Play Pct. New York .59 61 4 .533 Cleveland .87 63 4 .580

A ninth inning rally after two men were out scored all the runs Chicago needed to beat the Yanks Wednesday, 2 to 1. A walk, a pass and two doubles proved Shocker's undoing.

Buckeye, Cleveland's outplay had the Boston Red Sox rattled from his hand while Tris Speaker fielded sensationally in the 5 to 1 victory.

The Cardinals made short work of the Robins. Bell hit three triples and a double in the midst of the 17 base knocks. Bottomley and Theriot made homers.

One more victory in the three games remaining will guarantee the Cards a tie for first even though Cincinnati should win four.

The standings: W L To Play Pct. St. Louis .88 63 3 .533 Cincinnati .85 65 4 .567

The fight has caused some rearrangement. The Cardinals and New York play Friday instead of Thursday. Chicago and Brooklyn will have a double header Sunday.

Chicago beat the New York Giants Wednesday, 3 to 2, with the aid of homers by Scott and Harnett.

Pittsburgh walloped Philadelphia, 9 to 1. Washington topped St. Louis, 6 to 2. Philadelphia downed Detroit, 5 to 1.

TOMMY GIBBONS MET BOTH. FAVORS CHAMP.

Philadelphia—Fighters as a rule have a wholesome admiration for champions who have knocked them out.

Tommy Gibbons is one exception to the rule.

On form Gibbons, who was stopped in 12 rounds by Tunney, should pick him to defeat Dempsey with whom Gibbons managed to stay the limit of 15 rounds.

Gibbons, while conceding Tunney a chance, provided Dempsey is not himself, says Dempsey's punching will be too much for Tunney to withstand.

Tunney, always a defensive fighter, probably will find Dempsey's rushing attack such that he will be forced to assume an offensive.

HIGHS COMPLETE SCRIMMAGES FOR SHAWANO BATTLE

Orange Line Appears Weak Point With Opening Game Two Days Away

Scrimmage for Appleton high school's grid team, which opens the season with Shawano high here Saturday, was concluded Wednesday afternoon. Light workouts and signal drill are on the cards for Thursday and Friday. The team is handicapped by the loss of its veteran center, Lieberman, for at least two weeks. Holtermann is working at the job. The new center was a reserve at that position and guard last year.

The center of the line appears to be weak and will have to improve by Saturday to withstand the speedy thrusts of Schumacker, Shawano's star.

The Appleton-Shawano high school football game which will be played at Whiting field Saturday afternoon will start at 3 o'clock. Orange officials said. Due to a previous arrangement Lawrence is holding its annual all-college day program at the field from 1 to 3. This will postpone the high school tilt for a short time.

Capt. Pfeiffer, an end last year, is working at tackle with Getschow. The latter is handicapped by a bad arm. At ends Hartung and Carl Kuntz, newcomers, seem to have the call. Lie looks like the choice for calling signals with Witke, Johnston and Cookson backing him up. Strutz, Gelbke, Roemer, Schaefer and Popp probably will see service in the rear wall before the game ends.

New uniforms will be issued to the team Thursday evening so that they will be accustomed to the outfits by Saturday. A large squad will be in suits for the opener at Whiting field.

HEAVYWEIGHT RIVALS. PROMOTER AND SCENE OF TITLE BATTLE

If History Repeats Title Bout Will End in Knockout

Philadelphia—Will the heavyweight championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney end in a knockout?

Unless history fails to repeat, Tunney, if he wins at all will turn the trick by having the referee count ten over the champion.

It is a matter of record that every time the title has changed hands since 1892 it has been through the medium of a knockout, with the exception of the joke bout between Marvin Hart and Tommy Burns after Jeffries had presented the former with the title.

Jim Corbett provided pugilism's greatest upset in 1893 when he defeated the supposedly invincible John L. Sullivan in 21 rounds. Corbett, with his dancing tactics, wore Sullivan into a state of exhaustion before he put him away.

Corbett in turn lost the title in 1897 to Bob Fitzsimmons in 14 rounds. The much advertised solar-plexus punch delivered by "Gentleman Jim" proved the downfall of "Cyclone" Jim.

Two years later Jim Jeffries stopped Bob Fitzsimmons in 11 rounds. Fitz later tried to regain the crown, but again was knocked out in eight rounds.

Jeffries went into retirement in 1905, passing the title over to Marvin Hart, who was defeated by Tommy Burns in 20 rounds, a decision.

Jack Johnson won from Tommy Burns in 14 rounds by a knockout, the bout being staged in Australia. This was in 1908.

There being no logical contenders for Johnson's crown, Jim Jeffries, after being in retirement for several years, was induced to re-enter the ring in 1910 against the dusky champ. Jeffries, a shadow of his former self, was knocked out in 15 rounds.

Johnson, after holding the championship for seven years, was defeated by Jess Willard in 1915 at Havana, Cuba. The bout went 25 rounds. Some of the experts contend Johnson was counting the gate receipts as the referee counted him out.

An upset almost as unexpected as the Corbett-Sullivan fight was the defeat of Jess Willard in three rounds by Jack Dempsey. In that bout the champion served as little more than a punching bag for the challenger.

What will Tunney do to Dempsey? If he is to win, the dope says it should be by a knockout.

Green Bay—Halsey Hall of St. Paul; K. M. Harris of Duluth and A. O. Iverson of Sheboygan have been appointed by President Joe Carr of the National Football league to work in the Green Bay-Packer-Chicago Bear game, which will be staged at the City stadium, Sunday afternoon.

All these officials have worked here before. Hall and Iverson served as referee and umpire in the Bear game last year while Harris officiated in the 1925 Dayton game. According to President Carr's assignment, Hall is to referee; Harris, umpire and Iverson will be head linesman.

From the way requested for seats have poured in, it would seem as if these officials would be calling "em before the biggest crowd that has ever attended a Packer game in Green Bay.

Monday night when the tickets were placed on sale, they were gobbled up pretty fast. So fast that two hours afterwards several of the places selling duets were phoning in for additional blocks of seats. Not only are mail orders being filed for the Bear game but seats are on sale at the Postal Telegraph office in Nee-Menasha and at Basing Sport Goods Shop in Appleton.

The Packers know what they are up against this Sunday. It is going to be a battle every minute and Capt. Lambeau is not letting the 21-0 win over the Panthers brood any overconfidence in the camp. The Packer helmets are in tuning his players up nicely so they will be at "razor edge" when the whistle blows.

According to reliable information, the Bears had a scout here last Sunday and quite likely he got an eye-ful. The dopesters have it that Hugh Blacklock, who served as "advance man" for the Bruins last year, was with the Bear squad on route to the game at Milwaukee this past Sunday but that he stayed aboard the train when the Cream City was reached.

POST-CRESCENT WILL "BROADCAST" BATTLE

The Post-Crescent has arranged for a blow by blow report of the greatest battle of the year, the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Philadelphia Thursday night. The report will be megaphoned from the Post-Crescent building on S. Appleton-st., starting about 6 o'clock. All fight fans of the city are invited to attend the big scrap locally. The preliminaries are scheduled to start about 6 and the main bout at 7:15 Appleton time. In case of rain the main bout will be postponed until Friday evening.

The scrap for the heavy title will go ten rounds to a decision rendered by two judges, but in case they disagree, solely by the referee. The estimated attendance is 140,000. The purse is $600,000 of which Dempsey is to receive three-fourths, win, losing or draw, with one-fourth, $150,000 going to Tunney. Dempsey's share may reach $750,000.

There being no logical contenders for Johnson's crown, Jim Jeffries, after being in retirement for several years, was induced to re-enter the ring in 1910 against the dusky champ. Jeffries, a shadow of his former self, was knocked out in 15 rounds.

Johnson, after holding the championship for seven years, was defeated by Jess Willard in 1915 at Havana, Cuba. The bout went 25 rounds. Some of the experts contend Johnson was counting the gate receipts as the referee counted him out.

An upset almost as unexpected as the Corbett-Sullivan fight was the defeat of Jess Willard in three rounds by Jack Dempsey. In that bout the champion served as little more than a punching bag for the challenger.

What will Tunney do to Dempsey? If he is to win, the dope says it should be by a knockout.

KAUKAUNA WORKS HARD FOR BATTLE

Smith Opens Tough Schedule Against Oshkosh Valley Conference Squad

Kaukauna—With two more days to practice, Coach "Tiger Bill" Smith put his Kaukauna gridders through a hard scrimmage Wednesday evening, endeavoring to shape his first squad into a machine, which could successfully cope with the Oshkosh eleven.

According to reports from the Sawdust city, Coach Schneider has only three "lettermen" back, but a wealth of material is reporting for daily practice.

This is the first game between the two schools for a number of years, and Coach Schneider is working his men for a win. A win will mean confidence which may help them to cope the conference pennant.

Plans for a St. Joseph girls league of three five-"man" teams already have been started. This league probably will take the drives Tuesday evenings. The St. Joseph male leagues will be in charge of Henry Otto. All members of the league this winter are requested to call or see Mr. Otto.

Smith, has a reserve group of 20 players, who have been trained to take a position with the first squad. Although the line up has been picked to start the game Saturday, Coach "Tiger Bill" said that he may make a change, as some of the positions were so closely contested that extra hard work on the part of several candidates will win them a place.

Among the reserve men is Ealer, a quarterback. He will probably see some action in the game with Oshkosh. Ludke, a halfback, "Cub" Farwell, Hishon, Bob Main, Sam Adams, "String" Landreman, center, Jack Hilgenberg, guard, Lehrer, center or guard, Hansen tackle, M. Mislinski, tackle, Langley tackle, Van Lieshout, guard, Bielek, end, Sager, end, Deering, end, probably will see action in the game.

Each Smith would make no statement except to say that his team would have "to show a lot more stuff if it expected a win over Oshkosh."

In addition to the line up, Coach

Hoople Sells Hot Dogs To See Fight From All Angles

BY MAJOR HOOPLE Former Sports Editor of the Bombay India Helist

Philadelphia—Egad, folks, Senator McFadden, myself, and a few governors arrived in a special motor party, to Philadelphia, the scene of this evening's renowned fistic tournament. Now that I am here, nothing remains to assure the exhibition being a success with the exception of the non-appearance of either William Harrison Dempsey or James J. Tunney.

In which case I will climb into the arena and issue a challenge to any member of either political party, or member of any lodge, singing society, and debating club, to face me in a skillful contest of long-distance breath holding, catch weights, spelling bee, jungfrau yodeling in three keys, or blowing smoke rings, plain and fancy, egad!

It has always been my belief that to be consistent with one's art, one should make sacrifices; therefore I am doing something this evening that no other sport expert would think of doing. I am giving up a perfectly good ringside seat in trade for the privilege of being a hot-dog vendor.

Hum-m, I can see the expression of doubt in your eyes. But it is quite true, my friends. When I explained this seemingly ridiculous situation, I dare say you will see the logic in it, egad.

I truly feel that in order to give an accurate account of the match, I should see it from every angle. There is only one person who views it in a like manner, and that is the referee. So my theory as a vendor of hot dogs is this—I will be in an easy position to encircle the ring crying my wares, and at the same time seeing the boys from every viewpoint, egad.

Don't you think that a bally clever idea? But remember, now, what I have just told you is confidential. I do not want the other members of the press to learn my strategy.

My word, think what a spectacle it would be if they carried out the same idea, which no doubt they most certainly would. Imagine 500 gentlemen of the press, paraded as hot-dog vendors, hurrying and scurrying this way and that, around the outside area of the ring, Great Caesar, the mental picture of a mind in the clutches of hashish, egad.

I have seen the milling crowds in the bazaars of Arabia, the stampede of the multitude in London, and the pilgrimage to Mecca at its heaviest, but Philadelphia on this particular day dwarfs them all into insignificance.

I applied for room space in every hotel and my telegrams for reservations were completely ignored. Egad, I sent 20 of them collect. Of course I had scores of invitations to share quarters with many a high name, cabinet members; governors, bankers, etc. the sign of the times.

By the bye, folks, remember my graphic description of the contest to-night will be the top cream of this series. So bribe your news dealer in advance.

GENE HAS NEVER BEEN K. O'D; JACK ONCE

Philadelphia—Gene Tunney, challenger for the heavyweight crown, has never been knocked out. Jack Dempsey, the champion has one black mark on his record.

In Jack's first year of fighting, Jim Flynn, who gave many a heavyweight champion an interesting session, stopped Dempsey in one round.

The story is that Dempsey assumed a horizontal position that evening at the earliest possible moment, so that he might hasten to a nearby restaurant and purchase food to satiate an appetite that had not been appeased for several days.

In other words, he was just plain hungry and accepted the bout as a means to the end, knowing at the time he didn't have a chance with Flynn.

PURPLE GRIDDER HURTS SHOULDER

Borchers, One of Two Veteran Backs, Injured in Practice; Quinn Out

Green Bay—With two good men available for each position the football prospects at West are bright. A hasty glance of the Purple candidates reveals the fact that "Murph" white will have weight and power in the line and a fast backfield. Judging by the daily scrimmage the regulars have a smooth working aggregation.

The Purple and White outfit received one setback, as Joe Borchers, one of the two western halfbacks, will be on the sidelines for at least five weeks. He injured his shoulder while making a tackle in scrimmage. The appearance of Capt. Joe Quinn has made things look a great deal brighter, as he is a demon on the defense and a sure receiver of the forward pass. He has installed much confidence in his men by his brilliant work in practice.

INDIANS WITHIN HALF GAME OF IDLE BREWS

Milwaukee—Ram kept the Brewers idle Wednesday at Columbus while the Indianapolis club was beating St. Paul, 5 to 1, bringing the Tribe to within half a game of Milwaukee in second place. Thursday the Braves play a double header to wind up the series with the lowly Senators and they will probably need to win both games to retain their slender hold on second place.

CATCHERS EQUAL ON WORLD-SERIES BASEBALL TEAMS

Hargrave of Reds, O'Farrell of Cards Have Slight Edges on Others

BY BILLY EVANS

HARGRAVE

Looking over the catching material of the probable world series contenders, I fail to note any outstanding stars of the Ray Schalk, Johnny Kling type. The material on the whole is very good but I would hardly class it as great. There has been a dearth of catchers for some time in the majors. As I size up the New York Americans, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates, I cannot see where any of these clubs will have any great advantage over the opposition back of the bat. The burden of the New York catching has been handled by three receivers. Pat Collins, back from the minors, did practically all the work for the first half of the season and turned in a mighty good job. He started the Tanks on the road to success. When Pat went stale, Hank Severid was secured from Washington over the waiver route. He has performed most capably and righted the Yanks as the club was staggering. In the closing stages, the brilliant Penny Bengough, on the sidelines most of the year with a bad arm, has added his bit to the success of the club from the catching angle. All three are right-handed hitters. Collins and Severid are sluggers while Bengough is more inclined to just drop 'em out of reach. "Bubbles" Hargrave, one of the best catchers in the majors and Val Picinich, American League discard, have held up the catching end for the Cincinnati Reds.

When Hargrave was out of the running with appendicitis, Picinich stepped into the breach and handled the Cincinnati pitchers in fine style, even though new to the staff as well as the opposing batters.

Like the Walter Pipp case, I was much surprised when Picinich was waived out of the American League. Boston, the club that sent him on his way, certainly could have used him this year.

Both Picinich and Hargrave are right-handed batsmen. The latter has always been rated one of the hardest hitting catchers in the National League.

Bob O'Farrell has done most of the catching for the St. Louis Cardinals. He has had as his assistant, Ernie Vick, former Michigan football star.

Manager Hornsby gives O'Farrell much of the credit for the fine showing of his club. Aside from the very capable manner in which he has handled his pitching, O'Farrell has contributed much to the club's success by his timely batting.

O'Farrell came to the Cardinals last year in a trade with the Cubs. St. Louis was most fortunate to acquire him. He's a right-handed hitter.

As was the case last season, the Pittsburgh catching was halved by Smith and Gooch. Smith is a left-handed batter and was usually used against right-handed pitching or when some member of the Pirate staff expressed a preference for him.

Gooch, a right-handed hitter, worked when the opposition used a southpaw or to handle certain Pittsburgh pitchers.

The catching angle is a tossup, with little chance to miss, regardless of your choice. If Cleveland should overcome the Tanks' big lead, Luke Sewell, having his best year, compares favorably with any of the National League receivers.

Philadelphia Braces For Rush Of 132,000 Patrons Of Dempsey-Tunney Scrap

Gene's Defense Built to Withstand Early Rush; Offense for Late Rounds

BULLETIN

Philadelphia, Pa., (P)—Cloudy with possible showers was the prospect early Thursday for the Dempsey-Tunney fight Thursday night. The day broke with overcast skies and at times there was a slight drizzle.

Philadelphia—(P)—The celebration of 150 years of American independence gained in comparatively ancient warfare, gave way Thursday to the spectacle of a modern conflict, the settlement of personal fighting supremacy between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

Champion and challenger will fight for the heavyweight championship of the world and the richest prize in the sporting world—some $650,000—before the greatest throng that ever paid to view an athletic event anywhere.

Few wars have required diplomatic maneuvers negotiations and ultimatums than this duel but the patch to its consummation Thursday seemed clear, barring a last minute injunction or hurricane.

The fans were confident that the eleventh hour litigation would not interfere and the harshest prediction of the weather man called only for light local showers.

While lawyers moved to settle the last remaining legal issues, Philadelphia braced itself to withstand the rush of 132,000 toward the scene of battle, the gigantic municipal stadium located in the Sesqui-centennial exposition grounds. Unable to obtain hotel or rooming accommodations, hundreds spent a sleepless night or sought repose in any available spot, preparatory to joining the rush toward the turnstiles.

Wealth, society and public life of the nation were well represented in the gathering throngs. Governors, senators, congressmen, mayors, captains of industry, men and women whose names fill pages of society's blue books, holding the choicest of the $27.50 ringside tickets, mingled with the fans clutching $5.50 pasteboards. Nothing in sporting history has approached the proportions of this spectacle.

Already close to $1,750,000 has been turned in to the coffers of Tex Rickard's organization by the fans.

Rickard, master promoter of 20 years experience, never has been forced to combat as much opposition as he has in the crowning venture of his career. From New York to Chicago, back to New York then unexpectedly to Philadelphia and the Sesqui-Centennial, he has taken the most discussed match of modern times. Intertwined with his efforts first to obtain a battle ground have been a success of law suits, threatened injunctions and opposition from various quarters.

After three years of idleness, Dempsey, the champion meets the challenge of the former Marine, Tunney, a product of New York's Greenwich village and popular hero of the mass of fandom, if the opinions of its cross section here can be accepted as a criterion.

Dempsey, one of the most devastating punchers the ring has ever known has been established a heavy favorite. Odds on him have increased from two to one to close to four to one.

Even though some doubts were entertained as to his ability to regain his punching power and speed, Dempsey has been conceded a decisive margin because of his experience, terrific attack and ability to absorb punishment.

All critics believe Dempsey will make a rushing, tearing battle of it from the start.

Tunney's best prospect of victory is conceded to be in the fighting going the limit or close to it. His defense

Kimberly—Kimberly won second place in the 1926 Fox River Valley Softball tournament, by virtue of a 9 to 0 win from Kaukauna entry when the Kaukauna team forfeited the game by a failure to appear on the field. This victory gives Kimberly second place, with two victories against both Neenah and Kaukauna, while losing two close games to Appleton.

READING HAS LOSING RECORD SALTED DOWN

Reading of the International League looks to have the record of losing the most games during the season well salted down. Reading reached the 123 mark the other day, losing a twin bill. The club has copped less than 40 frays.

DOC SPOONER TO JOIN BADGER CAGE MENTORS

Madison—The University of Wisconsin Basketball coaching staff has been bolstered by the appointment of Dwight "Doc" Spooner, forward on the Badger quintette in 1922-23-24. It was announced by the Athletic Department today that Spooner had been signed to assist Dr. Walter E. Meanwell in his indoor program. The new coach will assist with the freshmen squad and spend sometime with Meanwell on the Varsity.

"Doc" has returned to Madison to continue his studies in the Medical School. His appointment brings the number on the basketball coaching staff up to four, which is without doubt the most capable group in the Conference. The Cardinal cage staff now includes Dr. W. E. Meanwell, Basketball's leading mentor, Les Gage, Guy Sundt and Dwight Spooner. Spooner's home is at Luverne, Iowa.

has been built up on the idea of stopping Dempsey's early rush and his attack upon theory that if the first shock is weathered, Dempsey will be a ready target.

ALL THE WORLD IS SAYING "HAVE A CAMEL"

Why does Camel lead the world?

The answer is Quality. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown . . . such blending as is found in no other cigarette. . . . Care and skill that stop at no expense. When you buy a pack of Camels you get the finest cigarettes made, regardless of price.

Increasing millions who've smoked other brands now smoke Camels. Every week, every day, Camel wins and holds a growing army of experienced smokers. Since smoking began, Camel popularity is the greatest ever known.

Camel smokers are the most enthusiastic body of smokers in the world—for Camels never tire the taste, never leave a cigarette after-taste. Camels are a lifetime of smoking pleasure.

Just try a Camel and taste the smoke from nature's choicest tobaccos. . . . Find the mildness and mellowness that have taught the whole world to say, "Have a Camel!"

Sell Buttons to Arouse Enthusiasm in Saturday's Contest

"A" buttons have been sold at Appleton high school this week to help advertise the Shawano-Appleton football game which will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the George Winding field. The high school athletic association has distributed tags and stickers for automobiles and members of the senior class have put up posters in the school building.

The season ticket sale for football games will start Friday afternoon following a general assembly period. Only three home games will be played this year including the Shawano game, and the athletic association has particularly asked the students to help make the sale a success. The senior class has acted as sponsor of the game.

The Y. M. C. A. has offered the use of its dressing rooms to the visiting football teams this year. The home team will use the high school dressing rooms.

SCHUTT IS ELIGIBLE FOR CARDINAL SQUAD

Madison—Joy prevails in the camp of Coach T. E. Jones' Wisconsin cross country squad, for word has come from the University authorities that Capt. George Schutt has been cleared for a change in the classification of the point industry. Albert H. Millen, representative of the industry, contends that location of the factory in the heavy manufacturing district is not conducive to a good retail business, which is the method it disposes of its product, and is asking the planning commission to amend the zoning ordinance to permit it to locate in the commercial and light manufacturing district.

Mr. Millen presented his plea before the commission at a recent meeting but that body decided to write to Leonard Smith, city planner who drew up the zoning ordinances here to determine his opinion on the matter. He commented that the ordinance be left as it is because of disagreeable odors resulting from mixing the oils and paints. Mr. Millen contended that no odors are noticeable at his factory.

If the ordinance is not changed, he has indicated he will move his industry from the city.

MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR POLICE CHIEFS MEETING

Final arrangements for the Wisconsin Police Chiefs convention to be held in Milwaukee on Oct. 12 and 14 were to be completed by the executive committee on Thursday. It was reported by the Chief George T. Prim.

Several firms manufacturing police equipment have applied for space on the convention floor to exhibit their wares and it is estimated that probably 20 to 30 concerns will be thus represented.

This equipment will include personal wearing apparel, badges, new types of theft detection appliances and articles used in police work such as tear bombs and so forth, the chief said.

Granting space for exhibits is being done this year for the first time, it was reported.

A banquet the first day of the convention is the outstanding event of the convention. Police Chief Jacob Laubheimer, Milwaukee, has arranged for the details of housing the meetings although he is not a member of the executive committee, it was brought out.

WINNEBAGO-CO FAIR RUNS OVER SATURDAY

Because of rains almost every day this week the management of the Winnebago-co fair Thursday morning decided to continue the fair over Saturday this week. The first three days of the fair were a failure because of incessant rain. The race program will be offered on Saturday.

BEGIN NOW TO PLAN FOR NEXT LABOR DAY

Plans for a Labor day celebration in 1927 were started at the semi-monthly meeting of the Appleton Trades and Labor council Wednesday evening at Trades and Labor hall.

Fred Wiesse was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the advance plans. The program includes a group of card parties, the proceeds of which are to go into a fund for the celebration next year.

Low levels for the movement were touched by some of the motors before pressure relaxed, Hudson breaking 50, and Moon reaching 18. The renewal rate for call loans was unchanged at 5 1/2 per cent.

DECIDE PLEA OF PAINT COMPANY

Plan Commission Will Consider Proposal to Amend Zoning Ordinance

Whether the Manufacture of paint can be conducted in the commercial and light manufacturing district was to be decided by the planning commission at a meeting at the city hall Thursday afternoon. According to a city zoning ordinance, this industry can now be carried on only in the heavy manufacturing district.

800 FRESHMEN
WOMEN ENROLL
IN STATE "U"

Biggest Class of Freshmen
Women in Years, Dean
Says

Madison—(AP)—Eight hundred or more young women have entered the University of Wisconsin this fall, as freshmen students, Miss Susan B. Davis, assistant dean of women, said Thursday. Final enrollment figures have not been compiled.

The freshmen women are among the most numerous in recent years, and a series of welcoming events awaited them.

The welcoming tea given by the Women's Self Government association was the first event. It was presided over by Miss Alice Brown, St. Louis, Mo., president of the W. S. G. A. The new girls were escorted to the tea by their junior advisers and were presented to Miss F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, and her assistants.

A hike sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association and a pageant under the auspices of the W. S. G. A., were given for the freshmen yesterday. In addition to the convocation for all freshmen students. The pageant was a sort of introduction to university life, presented in a humorous way.

The women's dormitories house 146 of the freshmen women, the others living in rooming houses for the first semester, at least. The dormitories are restricted to Wisconsin girls.

Close supervision is kept over the newcomers by the dean of women and the self government association. Each of the girls is invited to a personal interview with Miss Davis. Various problems are discussed as a part of the dean's efforts to form a personal acquaintance with the girls and help them fit into university life.

The enrollment at the university has reached $3,047, or $77 greater than last year, and the largest in the institution's history. Of the total enrollment, men number 4,910 and women 3,137.
